Russia To Revive Conference Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—Andrei Vishinsky's speech on Russian policy here tomorrow is certain to touch off new wrangling over the Korean peace conference.

Revival of the dispute practically kills any chance for the conference to get started Oct. 15, as requested by the U. N. side, and threatens the chances for it to begin by Oct. 28, the time limit set in the Korean armistice agreement.

Even if the U. N. Assembly Steering Committee turns down Vishinsky's request to open the Red Chinese demands for a "round table" conference to general debate, Vishinsky has managed to get the idea onto the floor over the opposition of the United States.

Satellites To Follow Suit
Vishinsky is expected to dwell on it at length in his Monday morning speech to the 60-nation Assembly. Every Soviet satellite—White Russia, the Ukraine, Poland and Czechoslovakia—will follow suit.

They put the Western countries still to speak in the position of having to make some answer on the Communist demands that India, Indonesia, Burma and Pakistan be added to the conference table as "neutrals."

In the 15-country Steering Committee Tuesday, either Vishinsky or his chief aide, Jacob A. Malik, will be able to make numerous speeches about the Red Chinese demand, with the Polish delegation chiming in at will.

Actual Work Faces Delay
They will force the United States, Britain, France, and China—the other vice presidents of the Assembly who are members of the committee—to answer.

Then, even if the Russians lose their agenda fight in the committee, they will get another opportunity in the whole Assembly to plug Red China's idea. If the committee turns down Vishinsky, the Assembly will pass on their action and three speakers for each side will argue from the rostrum.

All this could push organization of committees and actual work on the adopted 72-item budget to the end of the week. The Russians then can be counted on to keep arguing for the "round table" in the Assembly Political Committee.

TO WED ENVOY—Mrs. Rosemary Turner McMahon (above), widow of the late Sen. Brien McMahon, of Connecticut, will marry Baron Robert Silvercruys, Belgian ambassador to the U. S. Date of the ceremony was not announced.

Egypt's Former Wafdist Premier Seized For Trial

CAIRO, Monday, Sept. 21 (AP)—Former Wafdist Premier Mustafa Nahas and his wife were arrested today to face trial before a newly created revolutionary court on charges of "conspiracy" against President Mohamed Naguib's regime. It was announced today.

Egyptian army headquarters announced earlier that 11 Egyptians had been taken into custody and three others placed under house arrest.

Saadist Party Chief Seized

Those arrested and taken to a military police headquarters included Ibrahim Abdel Hadi of the Saadist party who was premier during the Palestine war, and Ibrahim Farag, a former Cabinet minister and spokesman for the once powerful Wafdist party. The charges against them were not specified.

The announcement came as a 3-man revolutionary court prepared to open treason trials against "traitors and persons conspiring against the present regime" of Naguib which toppled King Farouk 14 months ago.

Political Parties Banned

All political parties have been banned for a 3-year period in which Egypt is operating under a provisional constitution.

A revolutionary council met long hours over the week end ostensibly to make up a list of those who will face trial.

War Minister Abdel Latif Bagdady will preside at the trial.

Bachelors, Spinsters Dance As Many Hope To Find Mate

GREVENBICHT, The Netherlands, Sept. 20 (AP)—Bachelors and spinsters from seven nations danced together until the wee hours today in single bliss—many of them hoping secretly to find a mate.

Mayor Louis Corten told the some 700 men and women of all ages who came yesterday for the 3-day bachelors' conference it was "not meant to be a mating market—but we hope for the best."

Sleepy little Grevenbicht on the banks of the Meuse River has never had so many visitors from outside in all its years of early retiring an early rising.

And that was exactly what Ger Grein, 36 and single, had in mind when he thought up the idea: raise Grevenbicht—and lonely men and women—out of oblivion.

Volunteers among the town's 1,000 families and people in nearby villages took in the heavy overflow, since Grevenbicht's hotel has

Russian-Built Plane Placed Under Guard After Kimpo Landing

SEOUL, Monday, Sept. 21 (AP)—A Russian-built MIG15 jet roared unheralded out of the Communist north today and swept to a graceful landing at a U. S. jet base 15 miles northwest of Seoul.

American airmen clustered around the pilot as he stepped down from the MIG but he was rushed into headquarters for questioning.

A 5th Air Force officer said the pilot's nationality could not be disclosed "at this time" but "he is not a North Korean."

The spokesman said the pilot "will not be interviewed or identified for fear of retaliation."

A tight security was clamped around the base. Special officers guarded all entrances. Everyone entering or leaving was checked. No visitors were permitted.

Lt. Gen. Samuel Anderson, 5th Air Force commander, rushed to the airfield at Kimpo, home base for the American Sabre jets which tangled with the MIGs throughout the war in flashing battles over North Korea.

"The pilot is now under interrogation by Air Force intelligence officers," the spokesman said.

His plane was placed in a hangar by itself. A cordon of U. S. air police armed with .45 caliber pistols guarded it.

During the last days of the Korean War, Gen. Mark Clark offered $100,000 to the first Communist pilot to land in Allied territory in Korea. The offer was beamed to North Korea and Manchuria by radio for days but there was no takers.

However, two Polish fliers landed a MIG several months ago on the Danish Island of Bornholm in the Baltic Sea. The two, Lt. Franciszek Jarecki, 21, and Lt. Zdzislaw Jazewski, 22, were granted political asylum in the United States.

301 More POWs Arrive In States

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20 (AP)—The great repatriation of American war prisoners neared an end today when the Naval Transport Gen. A. W. Brewster slid into its berth with 301 POWs, including a Medal of Honor winner.

Those aboard the big gray transport—the eighth repatriation ship from Korea—brought to more than 3,000 the former prisoners returned home by sea since the armistice was signed. The ninth and last ship is due next Wednesday.

The Reds released some 3,500 Americans, hundreds of whom have been flown back to the United States. However, the United States charges that the Communists still have not accounted for more than 900 other Americans believed captured.

The first man off the Brewster today was 1st Lt. James L. Stone of Hot Springs, Ark., awarded the Medal of Honor for leading his platoon in "a brave and hopeless last-ditch stand" near Sokkoga, Korea, Nov. 22-23, 1951.

AFL Leaders Will Call For ILA's Ouster

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20 (AP)—AFL leaders decided today to recommend that the AFL convention which starts tomorrow expel rather than suspend the crime-maintained International Longshoremen's Assn.

The AFL's powerful Executive Council voted in August to recommend the ILA's suspension from AFL membership.

However, AFL President George Meany told newsmen the council has decided on the stronger course of expulsion because the ILA has failed to accomplish any "clean-up."

The ILA has been under attack from crime investigators for harboring criminal elements on New York and New Jersey piers.

Meany said the AFL ordered the ILA eight months ago to rid itself of criminal elements but the union has failed to take satisfactory action.

"We've seen no action to indicate they are going to clean up the situation themselves," Meany told reporters.

He said that to the contrary the union had pledged sometime ago to weed out questionable officials but had failed to do so.

Meany also said that if the convention votes the ILA's ouster, AFL leaders will announce a plan for establishing a new union setup to keep the bulk of the ILA's members within the AFL under new leaders.

Meany disclosed that he had "pretty definite word" that former President Truman will drop in on the convention some day this week.

Ship Sends Out SOS; Liner Goes To Rescue

ROTTERDAM, The Netherlands, Sept. 20 (AP)—The 6,323-ton Liberian steamer Greenville is in distress in the Atlantic, Dirkzwager's agency reported tonight. The French liner Ile de France is going to the rescue.

The agency said The Greenville radioed: "SOS. Greenville position about 50.01 north and 22.50 west. Bridge and shell broken. Require assistance. Ile de France about 10 miles off Greenville. Proceeding for assistance."

Grandmother At 32

IMOLA, Italy, Sept. 20 (AP)—Iolanda Giovannini today became a grandmother at 32. She married when she was 15. Her eldest daughter, Vincenza, 16, gave birth today to a daughter.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—The National Council Against Conscription charged today that the armed forces are spending millions of dollars a year to sell themselves to the public and are thereby creating "a serious threat to democracy."

"After a military decision has been reached it is to be sold to the public almost as it would be in any non-democratic state," the council said in a 60-page report prepared by its director, John M. Swomley Jr.

Congress Is Blamed

The report blamed Congress, especially the appropriations committees, for allowing "the concept of military press agency" to become an accepted pattern of military operations.

It also said the nation's press, magazines, radio, motion picture industry and the public in general have failed "to realize that military publicity is in its final analysis directed against the people as in other ways military tactics are designed to overcome the resistance or opposition of the enemy."

One of the great dangers of the system, the report said, is that "no comparable money and personnel exist to present another point of view."

UMT Publicity Campaign Hit

The anti-conscription group reported that the longest and most expensive military publicity campaign put on by the Pentagon is that favoring universal military training.

"Almost steadily since the end of World War II," the report said, "there has been a stream of articles, releases, broadcasts, speeches and other forms of publicity designed to win the public and Congress to an acceptance of it."

Without elaborating, the report accused the Pentagon of sometimes slanting legitimate news in its press releases.

11 Seized In Disorder At Housing Project

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Eleven men were charged with disorderly conduct today as a result of a new demonstration at the Trumbull Park Homes on the South Side.

There was a series of disorders there last month after Donald Howard, a Negro mail carrier, his wife and two children moved into the public housing project. They are the first Negroes to live in the unit.

The 11 men and four youths were in a motorcade in the project area last night. They were seized when they declined to obey police orders to disperse.

The men were released on bond of $10 each early today and were scheduled to appear in the South Chicago Court Monday. The four juveniles were turned over to their parents.

Secret Printing Plants Reported

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Senate investigators charged today that Communist conspirators are flooding this country with propaganda and have hidden printing equipment to carry on their activities in case of war.

"Many thousands of dollars must have been spent on equipment for the secret Communist printing plants," said Sen. Welker (R-Ia.), who directed the probe.

In a report of secret testimony on Communist underground printing facilities and illegal propaganda, the Senate internal security subcommittee recommended:

1. That Communist and Communist-front organizations required by the Internal Security Act to register with the attorney general be required also to list all their printing equipment.

No Organizations Registered

So far no organizations have registered under the act, passed in 1950, although the Communist party has been ordered to do so after a protracted hearing before the subversive activities control board. The party has appealed the order to the courts.

2. That all diplomatic and consular officers in this country who prepare or disseminate political propaganda be required to register under the Foreign Agents Registration Act.

The act not only is designed to disclose such agents but it also requires them to file and correctly label political propaganda which they send out in this country.

Diplomatic and consular officers are exempt under present law so long as they engage only in activities recognized by the State Department as within the scope of their duties.

Jenner Cites Loopholes

The subcommittee added, "much of the Communist propaganda activities in this country have been operated increasingly by diplomatic and consular officers in order to avoid the registration and labeling requirements of the foreign agents registration act."

Chairman Jenner (R-Ind.) said testimony taken by the subcommittee clearly showed "that loopholes in our security laws allow the Communist conspirators to flood the United States in peacetime with tons of propaganda and to prepare secret printing plants for continuing their propaganda activities in case of war."

10 Persons Killed In Auto Accident

BAKER, Calif., Sept. 20 (AP)—Ten persons were killed in a traffic accident 18 miles east of here today, the San Bernardino County Coroner's Office reported.

Chief Deputy Coroner Edward P. Doyle said reports from his men at the scene indicated two trucks and an automobile were involved.

The accident scene was two miles from Yucca Grove, little more than a service station on U. S. Highway 91. This is the principal route between Los Angeles and Las Vegas, Nev. Baker is about midway between those cities.

Delivery Nears End

Allied trucks were bringing 1,600 Chinese and 500 North Koreans to Panmunjom today, nearly completing the delivery into neutral custody of some 23,000 Communist prisoners balking a returning to Red rule.

Meanwhile, tension in the demilitarized zone, which had prompted commanders of Indian custodial troops to rush a call for reinforcements, died down to such an extent that some prisoners actually staged a friendly "reception" for their guardians.

Today's deliveries leave only about 2,300 North Koreans and a small number of Chinese still to be turned over. The Allied deliveries are expected to wind up Wednesday.

U.S. Judge Helps To Reunite Yugo Fugitive And Daughter

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 20 (AP)—A Yugoslav tennis star who refused to return to his Communist-ruled homeland is joyously reunited with his 3-year-old daughter after almost 20 months separation.

A sympathetic American judge in Germany who appealed to the head of the American Civil Liberties Union helped bring about the union. These are the details of the story which came to light today:

Dragutin Mitic, 36, once No. 1 on the Yugoslav Davis Cup team, was in Rome for a tournament in February, 1952, when he decided not to return to his native country. He said conditions there were "intolerable."

IN HIDING?—Lavrenty Beria (above), deposed boss of the Russian secret police, reportedly has escaped from Russia and is hiding in a neutral European country. A high Senate source said the mysterious fugitive has asked for political asylum in the U. S. and is willing to trade the Kremlin's secrets for a refuge from Red assassins.

Reds May Reply To Allies' POW Demand Today

PANMUNJOM, Monday, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Communists today requested a meeting of the Korean armistice commission this afternoon. The United Nations command quickly agreed.

The Reds did not say why they wanted the conference, but it could produce a Communist reply to the Allied demand for an accounting of 3,400 men believed held back from the exchange of war prisoners.

Communist correspondents said several days ago that the Reds would reply soon. The Allied list included some 940 Americans.

Reds Say 320 Want To Stay

The Communists said about 300 South Korean prisoners and about 20 non-Koreans—not further identified—had refused to return.

Wilfred Burchett, correspondent for the Paris Communist Daily L'Humanite, asserted that a number of names appeared on the Allied list "because of faulty book-keeping."

Those Allied prisoners represented as refusing repatriation were scheduled to be placed in custody of the neutral nations repatriation commission next Thursday.

Waiver Signed By Nora Haymes

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20 (AP)—Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes decided today to sign the controversial waiver that should clear the path for crooner Dick Haymes' marriage to Rita Hayworth on Thursday.

In the interim, the crooner must get a Nevada divorce from Nora, but that's considered a formality at this stage. The waiver will clear the way for the marriage by giving up Nora's right to a 30-day period in which to answer her husband's divorce suit.

Nora's mother, Mrs. Becky Johnson, said today that the waiver has been signed but that it must be notarized tomorrow. Earlier Haymes' attorney, David Marcus, had said action on execution of the waiver was expected in the morning.

Yesterday, Nora's attorney said she was delaying her signature as a "matter of public decency" and thought Rita and Dick should wait at least six weeks before getting married. Mrs. Haymes, former wife of actor Errol Flynn, wasn't available to say why she changed her mind.

AFL Leaders Will Call For ILA's Ouster

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20 (AP)—AFL leaders decided today to recommend that the AFL convention which starts tomorrow expel rather than suspend the criminal-implicated Longshoreman's Assn.

The AFL's powerful Executive Council voted in August to recommend the ILA's suspension from AFL membership.

However, AFL President George Meany told newsmen the council has decided on the stronger course of expulsion because the ILA has failed to accomplish any "clean-up."

The ILA has been under attack from crime investigators for harboring criminal elements on New York and New Jersey piers.

Meany said the AFL ordered the ILA eight months ago to rid itself of criminal elements but the union has failed to take satisfactory action.

"We've seen no action to indicate they are going to clean up the situation themselves," Meany told reporters.

He said that to the contrary the union had pledged sometime ago to weed out questionable officials but had failed to do so.

Meany also said that if the convention votes the ILA's ouster, AFL leaders will announce a plan for establishing a new union setup to keep the bulk of the ILA's members within the AFL under new leaders.

Meany disclosed that he had "pretty definite word" that former President Truman will drop in on the convention some day this week.

Ship Sends Out SOS; Liner Goes To Rescue

ROTTERDAM, The Netherlands, Sept. 20 (AP)—The 6,323-ton Liberian steamer Greenville is in distress in the Atlantic, Dirkzwager's agency reported tonight. The French liner Ile de France is going to the rescue.

The agency said The Greenville radioed: "SOS. Greenville position about 50.01. north and 22.50 west. Bridge and shell broken. Require assistance. Ile de France about 10 miles off Greenville. Proceeding for assistance."

11 Seized In Disorder At Housing Project

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Eleven men were charged with disorderly conduct today as a result of a new demonstration at the Trumbull Park Homes on the South Side.

There was a series of disorders there last month after Donald Howard, a Negro mail carrier, his wife and two children moved into the public housing project. They are the first Negroes to live in the unit.

The 11 men and four youths were in a motorcade in the project area last night. They were seized when they declined to obey police orders to disperse.

Secret Printing Plants Reported

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Senate investigators charged today that Communist conspirators are flooding this country with propaganda and have hidden printing equipment to carry on their activities in case of war.

"Many thousands of dollars must have been spent on equipment for the secret Communist printing plants," said Sen. Welker (R-Ia), who directed the probe.

In a report of secret testimony on Communist underground printing facilities and illegal propaganda, the Senate internal security subcommittee recommended:

1. That Communist and Communist-front organizations required by the Internal Security Act to register with the attorney general be required also to list all their printing equipment.

No Organizations Registered

So far no organizations have registered under the act, passed in 1950, although the Communist party has been ordered to do so after a protracted hearing before the subversive activities control board. The party has appealed the order to the courts.

2. That all diplomatic and consular officers in this country who prepare or disseminate political propaganda be required to register under the Foreign Agents Registration Act.

The act not only is designed to disclose such agents but it also requires them to file and correctly label political propaganda which they send out in this country.

Diplomatic and consular officers are exempt under present law so long as they engage only in activities recognized by the State Department as within the scope of their duties.

Jenner Cites Loopholes

The subcommittee added, "much of the Communist propaganda activities in this country have been operated increasingly by diplomatic and consular officers in order to avoid the registration and labeling requirements of the foreign agents registration act."

Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) said testimony taken by the subcommittee clearly showed "that loopholes in our security laws allow the Communist conspirators to flood the United States in peacetime with tons of propaganda and to prepare secret printing plants for continuing their propaganda activities in case of war."

10 Persons Killed In Auto Accident

BAKER, Calif., Sept. 20 (AP)—Ten persons were killed in a traffic accident 18 miles east of here today, the San Bernardino County Coroner's Office reported.

Chief Deputy Coroner Edward P. Doyle said reports from his men at the scene indicated two trucks and an automobile were involved.

The accident scene was two miles from Yucca Grove, little more than a service station on U. S. Highway 91. This is the principal route between Los Angeles and Las Vegas, Nev. Baker is about midway between those cities.

U.S. Judge Helps To Reunite Yugo Fugitive And Daughter

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 20 (AP)—A Yugoslav tennis star who refused to return to his Communist homeland is joyously reunited with his 3-year-old daughter after almost 20 years separation.

A sympathetic American judge in Germany who appealed to the head of the American Civil Liberties Union helped bring about the union. These are the details of the story which came to light today.

Dragutin Mitic, 36, once No. 1 on the Yugoslav Davis Cup team, was in Rome for a tournament in February, 1952, when he decided not to return to his native country. He said conditions there were "intolerable."

His Italian-born wife, Maria, and his eldest daughter were allowed to join him later, but Yugoslav authorities refused to issue an exit visa for his youngest daughter, Lydia.

Twelve months ago, Mitic read about a decision of the U. S. High Commission's Court of Appeal in Germany which ordered that a Yugoslav boy be taken from his German foster parents, who cared for him since the war, and be returned to his mother in Yugoslavia.

During the argument, the Yugoslav lawyer of the boy's mother went on record to say that anyone except criminals was free to leave President Tito's country.

Mitic got in touch with Chief Justice William Clark of Princeton, N. J., who had dissented with the majority of the court in the boy's case and had recommended that he stay in Germany. Clark heads the U. S. High Commission Court of Appeals—the highest American judicial post in Germany.

Clark, who was unable to act directly in his official position, put the case before Roger N. Baldwin, chairman of the American Civil Liberties Union, when Baldwin visited Clark in Germany.

Baldwin, an old friend of Clark, appealed to the Yugoslav attorney general, who ruled that the Mitic child could join her parents.

IN HIDING? — Lavrenty Beria (above), deposed boss of the Russian secret police, reportedly has escaped from Russia and is hiding in a neutral European country. A high Senate source said the mysterious fugitive has asked for political asylum in the U. S. and is willing to trade the Kremlin's secrets for a refuge from Red assassins.

Reds May Reply To Allies' POW Demand Today

PANMUNJOM, Monday, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Communists today requested a meeting of the Korean armistice commission this afternoon. The United Nations command quickly agreed.

The Reds did not say why they wanted the conference, but it could produce a Communist reply to the Allied demand for an accounting of 3,400 men believed held back from the exchange of war prisoners.

Communist correspondents said several days ago that the Reds would reply soon. The Allied list included some 940 Americans.

Reds Say 320 Want To Stay
The Communists said about 300 South Korean prisoners and about 20 non-Koreans—not further identified—had refused to return.

Wilfred Burchett, correspondent for the Paris Communist Daily l'Humanite, asserted that a number of names appeared on the Allied list "because of faulty book-keeping."

Those Allied prisoners represented as refusing repatriation were scheduled to be placed in custody of the neutral nations repatriation commission next Thursday.

Delivery Nears End

Allied trucks were bringing 1,600 Chinese and 500 North Koreans to Panmunjom today, nearly completing the delivery into neutral custody of some 23,000 Communist prisoners balking a returning to Red rule.

Meanwhile, tension in the demilitarized zone, which had prompted commanders of Indian custodial troops to rush a call for reinforcements, died down to such an extent that some prisoners actually staged a friendly "reception" for their guardians.

Today's deliveries leave only about 2,300 North Koreans and a small number of Chinese still to be turned over. The Allied deliveries are expected to wind up Wednesday.

Waiver Signed By Nora Haymes

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20 (AP)—Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes decided today to sign the controversial waiver that should clear the path for crooner Dick Haymes' marriage to Rita Hayworth on Thursday.

In the interim, the crooner must get a Nevada divorce from Nora, but that's considered a formality at this stage. The waiver will clear the way for the marriage by giving up Nora's right to a 30-day period in which to answer her husband's divorce suit.

Nora's mother, Mrs. Becky Johnson, said today that the waiver has been signed but that it must be notarized tomorrow. Earlier Haymes' attorney, David Marcus, had said action on execution of the waiver was expected in the morning.

Yesterday, Nora's attorney said she was delaying her signature as a "matter of public decency" and thought Rita and Dick should wait at least six weeks before getting married. Mrs. Haymes, former wife of actor Errol Flynn, wasn't available to say why she changed her mind.

Burglars Raid Embassy

Fled Russia, High Senate Source Told

Fugitive, Believed Ex-Red Police Boss, Is Willing To "Talk"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—A high Senate source said today Senate investigators are convinced that Lavrenty Beria, deposed czar of the Soviet secret police, has escaped from Russia and is hiding, in terror of his life, in a neutral European country.

An equally high source in another department of the government was deeply skeptical of the report, however, saying the chances of Beria's having broken through the Iron Curtain were "one in a million."

Both sources asked to remain unidentified at this stage of the case.

The Senate source said the mysterious fugitive has been contacted by agents of the Senate Investigations Subcommittee, that he has asked for political asylum in the United States and is willing to trade the Kremlin's secrets for a refuge from Red assassins.

Other Officials In Dark

"Personally, I would not be at all surprised if it developed that the man is Beria, that he finds at least a temporary haven in this country, and that he gives us a great deal of valuable information—if he can be kept alive," this source told a reporter.

Elsewhere, informed American officials said they knew nothing at present which leads them to believe that Beria has managed to get out of Russia. But there is no doubt that this government would be glad to receive any man who possesses as many Communist secrets as Beria.

The Senate source predicted the State Department would issue a statement on the matter "in the very near future." A State Department spokesman said he did not know anything about the Beria case.

No Announcement Of Trial

Beria was last seen in public at the May Day celebration in Moscow, as far as American officials know. Soviet Premier Malenkov denounced him as a traitor July 9 and ousted him from his posts as Home Minister and First Deputy Chairman of the council of ministers.

There has been no announcement of his trial or execution, and in recent weeks his name has not been mentioned by the Soviet Press or radio. This has led to a belief in some quarters here that he may already have been executed.

The Senate source said a trusted agent of the Investigations Subcommittee, which is headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) has flown to a "neutral, non-Communist country" in Europe, talked with the fugitive and reported that he is convinced the man is Beria.

"I would be the most surprised man in the world if it is true," commented the other high source.

B-29 Crash Survivors Tell Of 18-Hour Ordeal At Sea

Fought Off Shark; Seven Still Missing

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 20 (AP)—Three survivors of a stricken B29 hurricane hunter plane, rescued from an 18-hour ordeal at sea, said today their craft burst into flames without warning. Two of the rescued said they fought off a shark.

The trio told of their experiences as the Coast Guard reported a renewed air search today for seven missing crew members of the B29, which went down Friday night on a flight from Hunter Air Force Base, Georgia to Bermuda.

Six other crewmen were rescued by the steamship Nassau, which also saved nine men from a SA16 Grumman seaplane damaged and abandoned in an attempt to pick up B29 survivors.

Picked Up By Seairline

The three survivors brought here were picked up by the seairline Georgia and transferred to a Coast Guard cutter which brought them to shore.

Airman 1C Norman Prosser of Bruckner, Mo., was severely burned. He was hospitalized.

The other survivors brought here are Airman 1C Paul L. Dion, 24, of Boston, Mass., and S. Sgt. Edwin H. Sischo, 26, of Neillville, Wis.

After examination by a physician Dion and Sischo were to be taken to Hunter Air Force Base by automobile.

Dion, a mechanic, said the "plane suddenly burst into flames." He said the fire appeared to start in the No. 3 engine.

Jumped From 5,000 Feet

He said he jumped from about 5,000 feet and watched the plane glide toward the water. Dion said the craft appeared to break apart just before it struck.

The mechanic said he climbed on a small emergency raft with Sischo, who had taken the rubber float with him when he jumped.

For 18 hours, the two men said, they sat with their knees tightly folded under their chins in order that both would fit on the tiny raft.

They were afraid to stretch into the water, Dion said, because a six-foot shark circled them almost the entire time. They fought off the shark with their oars after using up a bottle of shark repellent fluid in their emergency equipment.

The men related that they had nothing to eat, and chewed continuously on gum.

Britain's Wilson Asks More East-West Trade

FLEETWOOD, England, Sept. 20 (AP)—Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade in Britain's former Labor government, called today for greater East-West trade now that the fighting in Korea has ended.

"The Soviet Union has shown a clear desire for an extension of trade with the West," Wilson declared.

His speech followed that of Clement Attlee, former Labor Prime Minister, yesterday criticizing U. S. foreign policy. The United States has been firm in pressing for embargoes to Communist countries on strategic materials.

Attlee's speech hit at the United States for working to keep India out of a Korean peace conference. Attlee called also for the seating of Red China in the United Nations when Peking ceases supporting aggression.

Ferguson Sees Balanced Budget Next Year, Tax Cut

Ike Draws Fire Of Sen. Johnston

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Sept. 20 (AP)—Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), in the most forceful attack delivered by a Democrat against President Eisenhower, yesterday called him "a resourceful Alibi Ike" leaving a trail of broken campaign promises.

"Eisenhower has dilly-dallied so long about taking the presidency seriously," Johnston told a Democratic rally here, "that reactionaries within the Republican Party have gained control."

The South Carolina senator also said the Democrats emerged stronger from their recent Chicago meeting and showed they can win the 1954 and 1956 elections.

Blasting Eisenhower, Johnston said:

"... When we talk about foreign policies he says he was 'already committed.'"

"When we ask him to redeem farm promises, he says he 'inherited a bad situation.'"

"When a balanced budget is mentioned, he complains that he's got to pay some old Democratic bills."

"When he is pushed on tax relief, he replies somewhat impatiently that he didn't mean this year."

"When Taft - Hartley (labor legislation) is pointed up, he says that 'Charlie Wilson (defense secretary) won't like it.'"

"And when, in desperation, we ask him to stay at his desk for a little while and forego extended golfing and fishing trips, he mutters 'doctor's orders.'"

Johnston said the nation is faced with "the serious threat of a federal sales tax which soothes the rich and soaks the poor." He also said Secretary of Agriculture Benson seems to be following a program "to plow under many of the little farmers."

Baltimore Doctor Dies

BALTIMORE, Sept. 20 (AP)—Dr. Thomas K. Galvin, chief of gynecology at Mercy and St. Joseph's Hospitals, collapsed and died last night at his home. He was 61.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Find Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H. The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores.

And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. Adv. "Trade Mark."

Withdrawal of the U. S. Fleet from the Formosa blockade, a policy in Egypt from which "we may expect a settlement," the situation in Iran which "shows evidence of good negotiation, good work," improvement of the situation in Germany.

Asked whether the administration will propose a sales tax, Ferguson replied:

"I've never heard any responsible person in the administration say there would be such a proposal. I'm personally against a sales tax. I don't think we should look for new ways to raise revenue. We should be looking for ways to save money."

Sales tax suggestions, Ferguson added, "straw men" thrown up by the Democrats.

Asked what the Republicans will base their campaigns on next year, Ferguson said he believed the administration would be able to claim by election time:

Putting more people under social security, a review of taxation, Taft-Hartley law changes "that people will be satisfied with," a reduced budget and "much stronger defenses than we've ever had."

Asked if he thought Secretary of State Dulles had accomplished more than did his Democratic predecessor, Dean Acheson, Ferguson listed as Dulles' accomplishments:

Taft's Son Urged To Seek Father's Seat In Senate

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Some Republican leaders are urging Robert A. Taft Jr., 37-year-old Cincinnati lawyer, to run for his father's Senate seat.

The younger Taft, approached by GOP campaign strategists, thus far has remained unconvinced that he should enter the political arena where his father won about every honor except the presidency in a long career.

Although Taft said he doesn't want to run on his father's name, some of the national party lieutenants are pressing him to reconsider, primarily because of their fear that Gov. Frank Lausche will win up as the Democratic candidate in next year's special election to fill the Taft vacancy.

Successor Still Unnamed

Lausche has yet to announce his choice of an appointee to take over Taft's seat until the election. If he chooses a Democrat who obviously won't run or picks a nominal Republican not interested in politics, the general assumption will be that Lausche intends to make the race.

Lausche proved his vote-getting ability in the gubernatorial contest last year by carrying Ohio by about 425,000 votes while Eisenhower was winning it by a 500,000 vote margin. His strength in a senatorial race, however, is open to speculation.

Bender Is Possibility

Rep. George Bender (R-Ohio) seems to be leading among several Republican possibilities just now. But there are some who believe the Taft name would be more potent than Bender's demonstrated state-wide popularity.

The Ohio political situation was one of several which came in for informal discussion when Democrats and Republicans met here last week. The 1954 battle for control of the Senate now looks so critical that the outcome of a single race might determine the balance between the two parties.

Prison Football Star Dies Of Broken Neck

GREEN BAY, Wis., Sept. 20 (AP)—The life of Gerald Nuss, a 20-year series of misfortunes, ended today with one more cruel twist of fate.

Nuss, an inmate of Green Bay State Reformatory, died of a neck fracture suffered as he starred in an institution football game.

He was to be released on parole tomorrow.

Reformatory Supt. Sanger B. Powers said Nuss, playing tackle for the power house in a game against the kitchen crew, was tackling a ball carrier when the latter's knee struck him and snapped his head back, severing the spinal cord and paralyzing him from the shoulders down.

Powers says Nuss' only known relative is a brother, who is in another prison. Gerald was abandoned by his parents at an early age, and his record shows he spent most of his life in institutions. He was serving a one-to-three year term for auto theft.

Capt. Lawrence Bach, 29, of Grand Forks, N. D., said when the Communists thought up the germ warfare propaganda, "It was pretty fantastic. Some peasant out in a field would swear he saw a Sabre dropping germs from 40,000 feet."

British Agents Take Over Hunt For Macleans

VIENNA, Austria, Sept. 20 (AP)—The search for Mrs. Melinda Maclean and her three children appeared tonight to have passed almost completely out of police hands into those of British secret agents.

Austrian police said they are maintaining a nationwide investigation to see if the wife of missing British diplomat Donald Maclean passed through this gateway to the Iron Curtain when she disappeared on Sept. 11 in Switzerland.

Police officials, however, said they have no hope of finding her. They have "absolutely no evidence" that she entered Austria and apparently expect to find none.

Swiss police have given up their search. The "investigations" of newspaper correspondents have moved from the realm of fact to that of fancy.

Pickpocket Suspect Seized At Cathedral

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—As hundreds of churchgoers milled about, a woman detective captured a woman pickpocket suspect after a hair-pulling contest on the steps of St. Patrick's Cathedral today.

During the struggle a male accomplice ran back into the huge church and escaped apparently through another door.

The captured woman was identified as Estella Gonzalez Diaz, 26, here on a visitor's visa from Mexico.

Detective Mary A. Shanley had been assigned to the Cathedral today because six thefts totaling more than $1,000 were reported by parishioners last week.

Truman Tells Young People They Must Work For Peace

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 20 (AP)—Former President Harry Truman today told the nation's young people that the "future of the world depends upon understanding the privileges of freedom which we possess."

He spoke at his office desk for 10 minutes on "Excursions," a Ford Foundation Workshop telecast by NBC-TV. Mr. Truman said this is the only country on earth "where a child born in any circumstance, can become the head of the state, the most responsible executive position in the history of the world."

He recalled that it was just eight months ago today, that he left the White House, and added that "my life is not as private as I thought it would be."

Many callers, he said, are young people wanting to "talk about things that are happening in the world."

"One of the questions they would always ask was, 'How does the United States of America continue to be so free and so strong?' My answer always was that it grew up that way. We grew up free and strong."

"Eventually we will have complete understanding among all the free nations of the world, and the United Nations will be the means to create peace in the world for future generations," he said.

"And so I say to our American boys and girls—and the boys and girls all over the world—remember that your duty is clear. By deed and example we must work to bring the nations of the world together. The best way we can do this, I have always believed, is to dedicate ourselves unswervingly to honest democratic principles."

Bankers Report Economy Healthy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—More than 7,000 bankers moved into Washington today for a look at President Eisenhower's "hard-money" administration. Their spokesman said the economy appears "very healthy."

W. Harold Brenton of Des Moines, president of the American Bankers Assn., which opened its four-day convention here, told reporters that business has reached a plateau of prosperity "where it will remain for some months."

"There may be a little slippage; some industries are making readjustments, like autos, farm machinery and housing," Brenton said.

B-29 Crash Survivors Tell Of 18-Hour Ordeal At Sea

Fought Off Shark; Seven Still Missing

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 20 (AP)—Three survivors of a stricken B-29 hurricane hunter plane, rescued from an 18-hour ordeal at sea, said today their craft burst into flames without warning. Two of the rescued said they fought off a shark.

The trio told of their experiences as the Coast Guard reported a renewed air search today for seven missing crew members of the B-29, which went down Friday night on a flight from Hunter Air Force Base, Georgia to Bermuda.

Six other crewmen were rescued by the steamship Nassau, which also saved nine men from a SA16 Grumman seaplane damaged and abandoned in an attempt to pick up B-29 survivors.

Picked Up By Seatrain
The three survivors brought here were picked up by the seatrain Georgia and transferred to a Coast Guard cutter which brought them to shore.

Airman IC Norman Prosser of Bruckner, Mo., was severely burned. He was hospitalized.

The other survivors brought here are Airman IC Paul L. Dion, 24, of Boston, Mass., and S.Sgt. Edwin H. Sisco, 26, of Neillville, Wis.

After examination by a physician Dion and Sisco were to be taken to Hunter Air Force Base by automobile.

Dion, a mechanic, said the "plane suddenly burst into flames." He said the fire appeared to start in the No. 3 engine.

Jumped From 5,000 Feet
He said he jumped from about 5,000 feet and watched the plane glide toward the water. Dion said the craft appeared to break apart just before it struck.

The mechanic said he climbed on a small emergency raft with Sisco, who had taken the rubber float with him when he jumped.

For 18 hours, the two men said, they sat with their knees tightly folded under their chins in order that both would fit on the tiny raft.

They were afraid to stretch into the water, Dion said, because a six-foot shark circled them almost the entire time. They fought off the shark with their oars after using up a bottle of shark repellent fluid in their emergency equipment.

The men related that they had nothing to eat, and chewed continuously on gum.

Britain's Wilson Asks More East-West Trade

FLEETWOOD, England, Sept. 20 (AP)—Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade in Britain's former Labor government, called today for greater East-West trade now that the fighting in Korea has ended.

"The Soviet Union has shown a clear desire for an extension of trade with the West," Wilson declared.

His speech followed that of Clement Attlee, former Labor Prime Minister, yesterday criticizing U. S. foreign policy. The United States has been firm in pressing for embargoes to Communist countries on strategic materials.

Attlee's speech hit at the United States for working to keep India out of a Korean peace conference. Attlee called also for the seating of Red China in the United Nations when Peiping ceases supporting aggression.

Ferguson Sees Balanced Budget Next Year, Tax Cut

Ike Draws Fire Of Sen. Johnston

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Sept. 20 (AP)—Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-Me.) in the most forceful attack delivered by a Democrat against President Eisenhower, yesterday called him "a resourceful Alibi Ike" leaving a trail of broken campaign promises.

"Eisenhower has dilly-dallied so long about taking the presidency seriously," Johnston told a Democratic rally here, "that reactionaries within the Republican Party have gained control."

The South Carolina senator also said the Democrats emerged stronger from their recent Chicago meeting and showed they can win the 1954 and 1956 elections.

Blasting Eisenhower, Johnston said:

"... When we talk about foreign policies he says he was 'already committed.'"

"When we ask him to redeem farm promises, he says he 'inherited a bad situation.'"

"When a balanced budget is mentioned, he complains that he's got to 'pay some old Democratic bills.'"

"When he is pushed on tax relief, he replies somewhat impatiently that he didn't mean 'this year.'"

"When Taft - Hartley (labor legislation) is pointed up, he says that 'Charlie Wilson (defense secretary) won't like it.'"

"And when, in desperation, we ask him to stay at his desk for a little while and forego extended golfing and fishing trips, he mutters 'doctor's orders.'"

Johnston said the nation is faced with "the serious threat of a federal sales tax which soothes the rich and soaks the poor." He also said Secretary of Agriculture Benson seems to be following a program "to plow under many of the little farmers."

Baltimore Doctor Dies

BALTIMORE, Sept. 20 (AP)—Dr. Thomas K. Galvin, chief of gynecology at Mercy and St. Joseph's Hospitals, collapsed and died last night at his home. He was 61.

Dr. Galvin had practiced medicine here for more than 35 years. He and Mrs. Galvin returned last Tuesday from a seven-week tour of Europe.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Find Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids
New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.
In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.
Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.
Most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months.
In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.
All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.
Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H. The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. Adv. *Trade Mark.

Taft's Son Urged To Seek Father's Seat In Senate

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Some Republican leaders are urging Robert A. Taft Jr., 37-year-old Cincinnati lawyer, to run for his father's Senate seat.

The younger Taft, approached by GOP campaign strategists, thus far has remained unconvinced that he should enter the political arena where his father won about every honor except the presidency in a long career.

Although Taft has said he doesn't want to run on his father's name, some of the national party lieutenants are pressing him to reconsider, primarily because of their fear that Gov. Frank Lausche will wind up as the Democratic candidate in next year's special election to fill the Taft vacancy.

Successor Still Unnamed
Lausche has yet to announce his choice of an appointee to take over Taft's seat until the election. If he chooses a Democrat who obviously won't run or picks a nominal Republican not interested in politics, the general assumption will be that Lausche intends to make the race.

Lausche proved his vote-getting ability in the gubernatorial contest last year by carrying Ohio by about 425,000 votes while Eisenhower was winning it by a 500,000 vote margin. His strength in a senatorial race, however, is open to speculation.

Bender Is Possibility
Rep. George Bender (R-Ohio) seems to be leading among several Republican possibilities just now. But there are some who believe the Taft name would be more potent than Bender's demonstrated state-wide popularity.

The Ohio political situation was one of several which came in for informal discussion when Democrats and Republicans met here last week. The 1954 battle for control of the Senate now looks so critical that the outcome of a single race might determine the balance between the two parties.

Prison Football Star Dies Of Broken Neck
GREEN BAY, Wis., Sept. 20 (AP)—The life of Gerald Nuss, a 20-year-old star of the Green Bay Packers, ended today with one more cruel twist of fate.

Nuss, an inmate of Green Bay State Reformatory, died of a neck fracture suffered as he starred in an institution football game.

He was to be released on parole tomorrow.

Reformatory Supt. Sanger B. Powers said Nuss, playing tackle for the power house in a game against the kitchen crew, was tackling a ball carrier when the latter's knee struck him and snapped his head back, severing the spinal cord and paralyzing him from the shoulders down.

Powers says Nuss' only known relative is a brother, who is in another prison. Gerald was abandoned by his parents at an early age, and his record shows he spent most of his life in institutions. He was serving a one-to-three year term for auto theft.

Knowland To Speak At State GOP Dinner
BALTIMORE, Sept. 20 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) will be the principal speaker here Armistice Day at a $50-a-plate dinner tabbed as the official opening of the Republicans 1954 election campaign in Maryland.

The GOP State Central Committee announced today that Robert O. Bonnell, Baltimore, chairman of the Republican Finance Committee, and Mrs. Joseph W. Byron of Hagerstown, will be co-chairman of the dinner to be held at the Emerson Hotel.

Reds Swore They Saw U.S. Jets Drop Germs
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20 (AP)—The first American jet pilot shot down over Red Korea came home today and told how Communist propagandists swore they saw jets "dropping germs from 40,000 feet."

Capt. Lawrence Bach, 29, of Grand Forks, N. D., said when the Communists thought up the germ warfare propaganda, "It was pretty fantastic. Some peasant out in a field would swear he saw a Sabre dropping germs from 40,000 feet."

British Agents Take Over Hunt For Macleans
VIENNA, Austria, Sept. 20 (AP)—The search for Mrs. Melinda Maclean and her three children appeared tonight to have passed almost completely out of police hands into those of British secret agents.

Austrian police said they are maintaining a nationwide investigation to see if the wife of missing British diplomat Donald Maclean passed through this gateway to the Iron Curtain when she disappeared on Sept. 11 in Switzerland.

Police officials, however, said they have no hope of finding her. They have "absolutely no evidence" that she entered Austria and apparently expect to find none.

Swiss police have given up their search. The "investigations" of newspaper correspondents have moved from the realm of fact to that of fancy.

Pickpocket Suspect Seized At Cathedral
NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—As hundreds of churchgoers milled about, a woman detective captured a woman pickpocket suspect after a hair-pulling contest on the steps of St. Patrick's Cathedral today.

During the struggle a male accomplice ran back into the huge church and escaped apparently through another door.

The captured woman was identified as Estella Gonzalez Diaz, 26, here on a visitor's visa from Mexico.

Detective Mary A. Shanley had been assigned to the Cathedral today because six thefts totaling more than $1,000 were reported by parishioners last week.

Truman Tells Young People Bankers Report They Must Work For Peace Economy Healthy

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 20 (AP)—Former President Harry Truman today told the nation's young people that the "future of the world depends upon understanding the privileges of freedom which we possess."

He spoke at his office desk for 10 minutes on "Excursions," a Ford Foundation Workshop telecast by NBC-TV. Mr. Truman said this is the only country on earth "where a child born in any circumstance, can become the head of the state, the most responsible executive position in the history of the world."

He recalled that it was just eight months ago today, that he left the White House, and added that "my life is not as private as I thought it would be."

Many callers, he said, are young people wanting to "talk about things that are happening in the world."

"One of the questions they would always ask was, 'How does the United States of America continue to be so free and so strong?' My answer always was that it grew up that way. We grew up free and strong."

"Eventually we will have complete understanding among all the free nations of the world, and the United Nations will be the means to create peace in the world for future generations," he said.

"And so I say to our American boys and girls—and the boys and girls all over the world—remember that your duty is clear. By deed and example we must work to bring the nations of the world together. The best way we can do this, I have always believed, is to dedicate ourselves unswervingly to honest democratic principles."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—More than 7,000 bankers moved into Washington today for a look at President Eisenhower's "hard money" administration. Their spokesmen said the economy appears "very healthy."

W. Harold Brenton of Des Moines, president of the American Bankers Assn., which opened its four-day convention here, told reporters that business has reached a plateau of prosperity "where it will remain for some months."

"There may be a little slippage; some industries are making readjustments, like autos, farm machinery and housing," Brenton said.

The board of directors of the South End Business Men's Association elected officers at a meeting Friday at the Cumberland Savings Bank.

Glenn Morris was elected president, succeeding George Millenson; Dr. L. R. McKenzie was named vice president; Roy Cunningham, secretary, and James Scarpelli, treasurer.

Firemen Fund Campaign Opens

Today the annual fund drive of the LaVale Volunteer Fire Company will be started by members of the unit and the Ladies Auxiliary.

In a letter sent to each resident of the area protected by the company, it is pointed out that contributions will go toward the reduction of the mortgage entailed several years ago for the purchase of an additional truck and the construction of an annex.

Recently the company installed an electric circulator hose dryer to expedite the drying of hose. Plans are now being prepared to give the community a greater coverage in which to sound the fire alarm or in case of an enemy attack. This will mean additional sirens and many hundreds of feet of wire.

The general committee is comprised of Cromwell C. Zembower, chairman, Lloyd Smith, James W. Beacham, Richard Burkey and Earl Zembower.

The suburb has been divided into 23 zones. All business places will be solicited by the general committee during the daytime. The house-to-house canvass will be held in the evening.

The department's policy is to cooperate with the Board of Education, Parent-Teacher associations, school principals and safety patrol members, he said.

Firemen Fund Campaign Opens

Today the annual fund drive of the LaVale Volunteer Fire Company will be started by members of the unit and the Ladies Auxiliary.

In a letter sent to each resident of the area protected by the company, it is pointed out that contributions will go toward the reduction of the mortgage entailed several years ago for the purchase of an additional truck and the construction of an annex.

Recently the company installed an electric circular hose dryer to expedite the drying of hose. Plans are now being prepared to give the community a greater coverage in which to sound the fire alarm or in case of an enemy attack. This will mean additional sirens and many hundreds of feet of wire.

The general committee is comprised of Cromwell C. Zembower, chairman, Lloyd Smith, James W. Beacham, Richard Burke and Earl Zembower.

The suburb has been divided into 23 zones. All business places will be solicited by the general committee during the daytime. The house-to-house canvass will be held in the evening.

The general committee on the house-to-house canvass is comprised of Jacob McClellan, Ralph Martin, Ray Nine, Ray Kamauf, J. W. Ritchie, Harry Tyree, J. K. Snyder, Robert Horn, Warren Livengood, Paul Goldsworthy, James Schell, George Boch, Paul Boch and William Klosterman.

Zembower reminded residents of the growing suburb that the canvass is held only once a year and pointed out that the fire company, meeting fire underwriter specifications, along with the LaVale Sanitary Commission and its adequate water supply, has resulted in substantial reduction in fire loss and the cost of fire insurance.

A Communist Trick

U. S. representatives at Panmunjom have steadily insisted that the Communists must return all U. S. prisoners of war, as the ceasefire terms expressly provide. Last week they furnished the Red representatives with a list of 3,404 names of men believed to have been in enemy hands, and demanded an accounting. Now a Communist correspondent indicates that some airmen listed as missing may be held in Manchuria. He even named one American ace as being thus held.

These men apparently are not among the several hundred who are said by the Communists to be unwilling to return. They are being detained on the ground that they were shot down over Manchuria and therefore do not come under the terms of the armistice. It is possible that some American airmen were forced to come down in Manchuria, but if so it was not because the Allied command did not respect the "privileged sanctuary" beyond the Yalu.

These prisoners were included under the terms of the truce, and the U. S. demands their return. Washington cannot be satisfied until there is reasonable assurance that no more U. S. prisoners are in Communist hands.

But the American people must face the fact that full assurance may never come. The United Nations Special Commission on Prisoners of War, which has been trying to locate and repatriate missing prisoners taken in World War II, has just been in session in Geneva. It has discussed the hundreds of thousands of prisoners known to be behind the Iron Curtain. But Russia has refused to cooperate and the commission has no way to force the Kremlin to change its attitude.

A similar situation, though smaller in scope, could arise out of the Korean War.

Bases In Spain

After more than a year of negotiations and a long series of premature reports, we are told that a military pact is about to be signed which will give the United States the right to use Spanish air and naval bases. Substance is given to this latest report by the return to Madrid of Ambassador Dunn after conferences at Denver with President Eisenhower.

In exchange for the use of bases, Spain has wanted modern equipment for its large army and support for the Spanish economy. Congress has already appropriated $100 million for economic, technical, and military assistance to Spain, which is available whenever the President sees fit to use it. But $100 million is only a fraction of what would be needed over a period of years and a very small fraction of the price heretofore asked at Madrid.

In the early days of the North Atlantic Alliance, the United States was deeply interested in obtaining air bases in Spain which would be under its direct control. England and France, however, were opposed to bringing Spain into the European defense system, both because of the totalitarian nature of its government and because this would seem to contemplate a strategy of "retreat behind the Pyrenees" in case of Russian attack. The build-up of American bases in North Africa was a partial substance for the desired Spanish bases.

Use of air bases in Spain now is less urgent than was the case a year or two ago. On the other hand, use of naval bases to combat submarine attacks on shipping in the Atlantic and the Mediterranean may be more urgent than when the prolonged negotiations were started.

Australia Follows Suit

Australia has followed the United States in asserting a claim to the continental shelf beneath the waters surrounding her territory. She has asserted sovereignty over all waters up to 100 fathoms deep and the natural resources in the seabed and the subsoil of the shelf. In places these waters extend beyond 200 miles from the coast—and to the north they touch the shores of parts of Indonesia and Dutch New Guinea.

The occasion for Australia's action is to be found in the activities of Japanese pearlshell fishermen who have been taking shell from waters 85 to 95 miles off Darwin, where they had been asked not to operate. The Japanese had announced their intention of taking a linnage the Australians regarded as excessive, with the result that negotiations intended to solve the problems have been abandoned and Australia has taken her new stand.

It is interesting to note that the Australians have acted because their own pearlshell fishermen are less efficient than the Japanese. Their complaint is that when a new bed is discovered the Japanese exploit it before the Australians can get what they—the Australians—consider to be a fair share of the shell. The fact that the beds are in waters considered to be the high seas is no longer considered an argument for letting this situation go on.

At any rate, Australia is following the example of the United States. The effect of this declaration on the doctrine of the freedom of the seas, which the United States has fought to establish and maintain, is still to be determined.

Mr. Mitchell Buys A Car

One of the reasons why governments run deficits is that it is rarely possible to persuade public officials to be as careful with other people's money as they are with their own. However, a shining example to the contrary now comes to light.

William D. Mitchell, the new Small Plants Administrator, was given $1,400 by Congress to buy a new automobile for his official use. Considering what new cars cost these days, that couldn't be considered an overgenerous appropriation for the purpose. But did Mr. Mitchell complain to the legislators that a job of the importance and dignity of his rated a Cadillac instead of a Chevy? He did no such thing. He found a surplus car owned by the Office of Defense Mobilization which he managed to purchase for $346.95 and turned the $1,053.05 which he had saved back to the Treasury.

Taxpayers admire Mitchell's spirit and so do the members of Congress who uncovered the story of his automobile deal. The government could do with a few more heads of agencies who shop for bargains, like a prudent housewife, when they are given government funds to spend. It wouldn't take so long to shove the federal machine out of the deficit ditch if enough officials could be persuaded to follow his example.

Happiness For The Oldster

The increase in the number of men and women over 60 is having an effect upon our social, political, and economic life. The medical aspect is receiving more and more attention and it is an exception to pick up a medical journal without reading about some phase of the problem.

Aging is a part of living that no one escapes. The process starts with conception and ends with death. Those who reach 50 may not want to grow older, but nothing can be done about it. Many of the problems that arise are not concerned so much with physical health as with the attitude of others toward senior folks. No one knows this better than the family physician who is asked to treat hundreds of complaints traceable to loneliness, self-pity, fear, or feelings of insecurity.

Those who have the responsibility of the aged often expect a pill or capsule to remedy the situation. The daughter of an elderly woman asked, "Won't vitamins help?" Another was certain that a few hormone injections or a strong tonic would do the trick. In both instances the parents would have improved if they had received a little more attention and had been given enough to do to make them feel wanted. Psychological disturbances are seen more frequently because families are changing. More persons are living in cities where older folks do not fare as well as they do in the country. There is more to do in rural communities and oldsters are not confined indoors because of the hustle-bustle, crowds, and street traffic. In addition, there appears to be a change in our feelings of responsibility. The younger generation is willing to let the government take care of the older generation. Sons and daughters will help in time of need so long as it does not interfere with their own way of life.

Meanwhile, the elderly man or woman is not as inert as his children or grandchildren may think. Mature people hate to be dependent upon others. Furthermore, doubling up prevents them from coming and going freely and, more often than not, they are forced to live some distance from their friends. This is a hardship because part of the joy of growing old is to have time to sit around and be sociable with others. Doubtless Thomas should go to California or Florida in the winter and watch the thousands of men and women in their 70s and 80s having the time of their lives. Those who were active in youth are still energetic and if they enjoyed a cocktail or two when they were 40, they still like to bend their elbow with their cronies. Many remain interested in the opposite sex.

Oldsters are happier when allowed to continue in their own environment, with enough to do. This aspect of growing old is neglected because more people associate old age with disturbances resulting from hardening of the arteries, heart trouble, cancer, arthritis, and difficulties in seeing and hearing. These degenerative processes occur, but emotional difficulties may do more damage than the physical. Happiness is a prerequisite to health and those who are content and free from irritating influences are better able to take the annoyances and discomforts associated with physical ailments. It goes back to the old saying that the future belongs to those who prepare for it. Oldsters who are independent and continue to live in their own surroundings are fortunate.

TOMORROW: The wonder drugs should be used conservatively.

Do you think his symptoms were caused by hurrying or should heart trouble be considered?

REPLY

I doubt if your husband's difficulty was brought on by heart disease but why take a chance? He ought to see his physician.

Commerce Dept. Shuns Cuban Request For Technical Aid On Newsprint Manufacture; Newsprint Made Of Bagasse Would Mean Saving For Publishers

WASHINGTON — The Commerce Department doesn't like to discuss it, but its officials have given an amazing run-around to the Cuban government regarding the all-important question of helping U. S. publishers by manufacturing newsprint from sugar cane. On May 19 the Cuban government requested technical aid from the Eisenhower Administration in developing newsprint from bagasse, the left-over waste from sugar cane after the sugar is produced. The proposal, which had the blessing of American newspaper publishers, was aimed at breaking the Canadian newsprint monopoly, which has pushed publishing costs so high that some newspapers have gone out of business.

However, the Commerce Department, after four months delay, is still giving the Cuban government the run-around—even though Cuba offered to pay all costs. Background of the Cuban move was a report made by Democratic Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer on the newsprint situation, sent to Congressman Emanuel Celler of New York chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, October 1 last year. The report told how bagasse was one means of breaking the Canadian newsprint monopoly, told how the Bureau of Standards had produced paper from bagasse on which the Congressional Record was printed.

"It is technically feasible," said the Sawyer report to Congress, "to manufacture from whole bagasse a paper which is satisfactory in all respects and superior in some, for use as newsprint."

Strange Delay

Already the Grace Steamship Lines have set up a bagasse factory in Peru, where the waste from sugar cane is turned into newsprint. The factory was inspected by Dr. Milton Eisenhower, brother

Business And Diets

By ROGER W. BABSON

NEW BOSTON, N. H.—Someone has said that we are what we eat. If this is true, some of the people I've seen during my lifetime must have had mighty peculiar diets! Did you know that the last dozen lush years have made the fat man America's No. 1 health problem? That's what many doctors say. What has this to do with business? More than you would guess. I predict that in the next 10 years Americans will become universally educated to their dietary needs and that this knowledge will bring about a revolution in the food industry.

People Are What They Eat

There is nothing new about the idea that people physically are what they eat; also that diet directly affects their mental and spiritual powers. Way back in the 18th Century, Lord Anson kept a careful record of his voyage around the world. Not only did his men suffer beyond imagination, but they died from scurvy at the rate of four to six a day. Once they reached a port where they could get fresh meat and vegetables, the disease subsided and all the sick recovered. Since Lord Anson's day we have learned a great deal about food and what it does to people. One investigation showed a group of Harvard students to be an average of one and one-third inches taller than their fathers. Why? Two main factors: better diet and the reduction of childhood diseases.

Studies have shown that children from prosperous neighborhoods, because of better diets, are both healthier and more intelligent than those who are poorly fed. But there is also plenty of evidence that people need to be educated about food and diet. For example, many persons prefer deficient white breads to rich whole wheat; or prefer polished rice to the unpolished product. Cows' milk, with its valuable properties, is viewed with prejudice by some peoples of the world, with much the same feeling we have about excretions. In short, food likes and dislikes are often irrationally formed, with little reference to food merits. We all would feel better and be more successful in our business or other work if we ate fewer starches and sweets. Some unscrupulous food and of the President, on his recent trip to South America.

Accordingly, following this precedent, the Cuban government wrote the Commerce Department, via the State Department, May 19, asking for the loan of Jesse Friedman, the Commerce Department expert on bagasse. Cuba proposed paying Friedman's expenses and salary for three or four weeks, during which he would advise them on setting up a newsprint plant.

As the largest sugar-producing nation in the world, Cuba constantly faces the problem of being a one-crop country. If recession comes to the U. S., one of the first commodities hit is sugar. For that reason Cuba has been anxious to develop other industries, and newsprint from bagasse not only would be such an industry, but would be beneficial to American publishers.

The State Department, anxious to promote the good-neighbor policy, immediately approved the idea. But the Commerce Department stalled. Ordinarily the loan of a technical expert to a friendly neighbor like Cuba would be mere routine. It would be okayed in a few days. But in this case two whole months went by before the Commerce Department concocted an answer.

Finally Craig Sheaffer, Assistant Secretary of Commerce and manufacturer of the Sheaffer pen, wrote on July 20 that bagasse expert Friedland could not be spared. He was tied up in important work. Other men could be sent, Sheaffer said, but not Friedman.

This sounded a little strange to the Cuban embassy in Washington, because unofficially it was learned that Mr. Friedman was being allowed to resign from the government under the new economy wave. Furthermore, he happens to be the one and only Commerce Department expert on bagasse. So the Cuban embassy wrote back August 31, asking how soon Mr. Friedman could be spared to help them on bagasse and newsprint.

Three weeks have passed, and as of this writing there's been no reply. Friedman is sitting in the Commerce Department with no pressing duties. Meanwhile Assistant Secretary Sheaffer writes that he's indispensable.

Meanwhile also, the Bureau of Standards has been instructed to discontinue further work on making newsprint from bagasse. This has aroused Cuban suspicions that certain Commerce Department officials are quietly playing the game of the Canadian newsprint monopoly, which actually is controlled in Wall Street.

NOTE — Assistant Secretary Sheaffer who wrote the run-around letter to the Cubans, is the man who fired Dr. Allen Astin as director of the Bureau of Standards, then was indirectly rebuked by Secretary Sinclair Weeks when the latter rehired Astin and removed the bureau from Sheaffer's jurisdiction. Sheaffer also contributed $1,000 to Senator McCarthy's last campaign and $1,300 to rabble-rouser Merwyn K. Hart.

Will The Fighting Start Again?

WASHINGTON:

The loud disputes and recriminations about the Korean peace conference have started up again, and will no doubt continue for some time. Yet the fact is that not even those who are shouting the loudest really believe that anything at all is likely to come out of the conference. In this sense the rows in the United Nations about India's inclusion in the conference, and so on, are a mere teapot tempest.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is reliably reported to believe that there is about one chance in four of reaching an agreed settlement leading to Korean unification. But even in this very moderate optimism, Dulles is a minority of one among the experts.

Settlement Formula

A formula for an agreed settlement, in which the Communists would be offered Korean neutralization and the withdrawal of all foreign troops, in return for free elections and peaceful Korean unification, is being seriously considered in the State Department. Proponents of this formula argue that the Communists might agree to a non-Communist Korean buffer state, provided American troops were withdrawn from the Asian continent. As for our side, a unified non-Communist Korea and the withdrawal of American troops from Korea are both, it is argued, desirable objectives.

But South Korean President Syngman Rhee has already made it clear that he will fight to the death against any formula for a neutralized Korea. This country, moreover, has already offered Rhee a military alliance, which would have to be canceled if Korea were to be neutralized. And as for the Communists, they seem likely to demand a much higher price for a unified Korea.

Most of the experts believe that the Communists' minimum price—if, indeed, they will agree to a unified non-Communist Korea on any terms—will be admission of Communist China into the United Nations and an end to the economic blockade, which is undoubtedly hurting China badly. There is no disposition whatsoever in Washington to pay such a price. Aside from the obvious domestic political implications, policy-makers like Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson are sincerely convinced that to pay this price would be the prelude to a Communist takeover throughout Southeast Asia.

Theoretical Way Out

If peaceful unification of Korea cannot be negotiated, there is another theoretical way out—mutual withdrawal of Chinese and United troops, leaving the Koreans themselves to fight it out. This, oddly enough, is what both Rhee and such Communist spokesmen as China's Chou En Lai are in effect demanding. From Rhee's point of view—and ours—there is ostensibly something to be said for such a proposition.

South Korea now has a population of some 24,000,000, while the North Korean population has been reduced below 8,000,000. Rhee's 16-division army is the strongest in Asia, while the North Korean army has been pulverized. Thus it seems on the surface odd that the Communists should still be talking about withdrawal of foreign troops.

It is not really so odd. The Communists are rebuilding the airfields in North Korea, and they are re-equipping the shattered North Korean army with all possible haste. What is more, they are known to be organizing an entirely new army, consisting of about a quarter of a million troops of Korean descent, north of the Yalu. The Communists obviously believe that, once American troops are withdrawn across the water, they can, in time, take all Korea. For this and other reasons, an agreement simply to let the Koreans fight it out seems highly unlikely.

Thus a failure to reach agreement at the Korean conference—no matter who attends it—is considered just short of certain. This poses the question: If the conference fails, will the fighting start again? The answer seems to be a tentative but fairly confident "No."

If the Communists cross the demilitarized zone, it will be a clear case of aggression. In this case, we are pledged in effect to go to war with China, and our allies are, for the first time, pledged to support us in this war. Therefore renewed overt Communist aggression is considered unlikely—unless Moscow, and Peking are ready for world war.

Rhee Unpredictable

Bar an entirely new situation, like Chinese Aggression in Indo-China, the United States is not going to start the fighting again. This leaves Syngman Rhee. Rhee is certainly a most unpredictable old man. But those best able to judge are fairly confident that Rhee is no longer in a position, logistically or politically, to start the fighting again, and that he will be less so as time goes by.

For all these reasons, the Korea truce seems almost certainly a de facto settlement of the Korean war. Thus as a practical matter the loud disputants in the United Nations might as well save their breath.

The Attack On The FBI

It would seem of his own account in "The Scarlet Thread" that Donald Downes was introduced into the OSS by the British espionage organization in the United States, which, according to him, called itself "Rough Diamonds, Ltd." While he was working for the OSS as an agent, he was given an office by Frederic Ullman, Jr., president of Pathe Newsreel. The object of this was:

"... It thus provided maximum security against a search by FBI."

It needs to be recalled that the OSS was an espionage organization for work abroad. It had no assignment within the United States. It would seem that in the OSS, Donald Downes' business was to steal the codes and cyphers of embassies which he describes as "Alphonie, Betonia, and Gammonia, and Vichy France." According to him, J. Edgar Hoover was annoyed that the OSS was "penetrating" embassies, which Downes boasts with much pride he did with great success.

Gripe Against FBI

It appears that Downes' gripe against the FBI is that when his operatives were engaged in rifling the "Alphan" embassy in Washington, "... two FBI squad cars pulled up outside the building and turned on their sirens. It awoke everybody. All the lights ..."

He instructed his operatives who telephoned to him:

"... Go home and if you are picked up by the FBI refuse to talk ... So he called General Donovan, who "... went to the White House to protest."

I have been able, at great pains, to check something of this incident. The entire siren sequence is false. On July 30, 1942, there was an incident not far from the "Alphan" embassy—several blocks away. Two men were in a car. They were told to move on. If Senator McCarthy had all this material in a form that could be established under oath, he might produce some really hot stuff.

At any rate, President Roosevelt told Donovan to stay away from the embassies.

Another Tale

The next story that Downes tells

Sen. Fred Seaton, recently named Assistant Secretary of Defense, is still popularly known in GOP circles as the "catcher on Ike's team," because he used to throw the ball back at Democratic orators during the last campaign. His shrewd analysis of public relations comes naturally to Seaton, a newspaper publisher, and friends say he will do an equally good job as Defense Secretary Charles Wilson's top legislative adviser.

(Copyright, 1953, The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

about the FBI, to show how unpatriotic J. Edgar Hoover is, relates to one Charles Bedeaux, whom I knew very well. According to Downes, two brothers, Guy and Jacques Calvet ("born Cohen," in Algiers, in 1942, offered their services to the United States.

Charles Bedeaux, an American citizen of French birth, had long lived in the United States where he made an enormous fortune as an industrial engineer. During the war, he tried to sell the Germans the idea of laying a pipeline across the Sahara to bring cheap vegetable oils (mostly peanut oil) from West Africa to Hitler's Europe. (Subsequently, the British expensively and unsuccessfully experimented with Bedeaux's ideas.)

Bedeaux was caught trading with the enemy and was arrested, largely through betrayal, according to Downes, by Guy Calvet. It seems that Downes wanted Calvet to steal some documents from the French Securite Militaire, which he did, making and keeping photostats of the same.

The FBI also got there and interviewed Calvet. But Downes, an American OSS agent, according to his own admission, spied on FBI agents in the course of their duty. According to Downes, the FBI agent, with a Southern accent, (mind, Downes says he was listening behind a half-open door) wanted all the photostats of Bedeaux's papers which Calvet had kept.

First as to the "Southern accent," this is quite amusing. I have questioned that one fact because the veracity of much of Downes' book may hinge on it. Either he was hiding in the tiny Calvet store, where nobody could actually hide, and he heard the "Southern accent" or he was not there. My information is that the FBI operatives, who questioned Calvet, spoke French and Yiddish, mostly French.

Committed Suicide

Bedeaux committed suicide in Florida while under arrest. Downes says:

"On his way home under arrest Charles Bedeaux, officially under the surveillance of the FBI, committed suicide when changing planes in Florida. He took poison, bought in Florida. How he managed to get it can only be surmised."

Actually, while the Immigration and Naturalization Service in Miami (not the FBI, on February 18, 1944, Charles Bedeaux died from a self-administered dose of Luminal. He had accumulated small doses, given him for sleeplessness, until he had sufficient for a fatal dose.

These stories are trivial, but out of them Downes tries to give the impression that J. Edgar Hoover and the FBI were traitors during World War II.

A Communist Trick

U. S. representatives at Panmunjom have steadily insisted that the Communists must return all U. S. prisoners of war, as the ceasefire terms expressly provide. Last week they furnished the Red representatives with a list of 3,404 names of men believed to have been in enemy hands, and demanded an accounting. Now a Communist correspondent indicates that some airmen listed as missing may be held in Manchuria. He even named one American ace as being thus held.

These men apparently are not among the several hundred who are said by the Communists to be unwilling to return. They are being detained on the ground that they were shot down over Manchuria and therefore do not come under the terms of the armistice. It is possible that some American airmen were forced to come down in Manchuria, but if so it was not because the Allied command did not respect the "privileged sanctuary" beyond the Yalu.

These prisoners were included under the terms of the truce, and the U. S. demands their return. Washington cannot be satisfied until there is reasonable assurance that no more U. S. prisoners are in Communist hands.

But the American people must face the fact that full assurance may never come. The United Nations Special Commission on Prisoners of War, which has been trying to locate and repatriate missing prisoners taken in World War II, has just been in session in Geneva. It has discussed the hundreds of thousands of prisoners known to be behind the Iron curtain. But Russia has refused to cooperate and the commission has no way to force the Kremlin to change its attitude.

A similar situation, though smaller in scope, could arise out of the Korean War.

Bases In Spain

After more than a year of negotiations and a long series of premature reports, we are told that a military pact is about to be signed which will give the United States the right to use Spanish air and naval bases. Substance is given to this latest report by the return to Madrid of Ambassador Dunn after conferences at Denver with President Eisenhower.

In exchange for the use of bases, Spain has wanted modern equipment for its large army and support for the Spanish economy. Congress has already appropriated $100 million for economic, technical, and military assistance to Spain, which is available whenever the President sees fit to use it. But $100 million is only a fraction of what would be needed over a period of years and a very small fraction of the price heretofore asked at Madrid.

In the early days of the North Atlantic Alliance, the United States was deeply interested in obtaining air bases in Spain which would be under its direct control. England and France, however, were opposed to bringing Spain into the European defense system, both because of the totalitarian nature of its government and because this would seem to contemplate a strategy of "retreat behind the Pyrenees" in case of Russian attack. The build-up of American bases in North Africa was a partial substance for the desired Spanish bases.

Use of air bases in Spain now is less urgent than was the case a year or two ago. On the other hand, use of naval bases to combat submarine attacks on shipping in the Atlantic and the Mediterranean may be more urgent than when the prolonged negotiations were started.

Australia Follows Suit

Australia has followed the United States in asserting a claim to the continental shelf beneath the waters surrounding her territory. She has asserted sovereignty over all waters up to 100 fathoms deep and the natural resources in the seabed and the subsoil of the shelf. In places these waters extend beyond 200 miles from the coast—and to the north they touch the shores of parts of Indonesia and Dutch New Guinea.

The occasion for Australia's action is to be found in the activities of Japanese pearlshell fishermen who have been taking shell from waters 85 to 95 miles off Darwin, where they had been asked not to operate. The Japanese had announced their intention of taking a loanage the Australians regarded as excessive, with the result that negotiations intended to solve the problems have been abandoned and Australia has taken her new stand.

It is interesting to note that the Australians have acted because their own pearlshell fishermen are less efficient than the Japanese. Their complaint is that when a new bed is discovered the Japanese exploit it before the Australians can get what they—the Australians—consider to be a fair share of the shell. The fact that the beds are in waters considered to be the high seas is no longer considered an argument for letting this situation go on.

At any rate, Australia is following the example of the United States. The effect of this declaration on the doctrine of the freedom of the seas, which the United States has fought to establish and maintain, is still to be determined.

Mr. Mitchell Buys A Car

One of the reasons why governments run deficits is that it is rarely possible to persuade public officials to be as careful with other people's money as they are with their own. However, a shining example to the contrary now comes to light.

William D. Mitchell, the new Small Plants Administrator, was given $1,400 by Congress to buy a new automobile for his official use. Considering what new cars cost these days, that couldn't be considered an overgenerous appropriation for the purpose. But did Mr. Mitchell complain to the legislators that a job of the importance and dignity of his rated a Cadillac instead of a Chevy? He did no such thing. He found a surplus car owned by the Office of Defense Mobilization which he managed to purchase for $346.95 and turned the $1,053.05 which he had saved back to the Treasury.

Taxpayers admire Mitchell's spirit and so do the members of Congress who uncovered the story of his automobile deal. The government could do with a few more heads of agencies who shop for bargains, like a prudent housewife, when they are given government funds to spend. It wouldn't take so long to shove the federal machine out of the deficit ditch if enough officials could be persuaded to follow his example.

Happiness For The Oldster

The increase in the number of men and women over 60 is having an effect upon our social, political, and economic life. The medical aspect is receiving more and more attention and it is an exception to pick up a medical journal without reading about some phase of the problem.

Aging is a part of living that no one escapes. The process starts with conception and ends with death. Those who reach 50 may not want to grow older, but nothing can be done about it. Many of the problems that arise are not concerned so much with physical health as with the attitude of others toward senior folks. No one knows this better than the family physician who is asked to treat hundreds of complaints traceable to loneliness, self-pity, fear, or feelings of insecurity.

Those who have the responsibility of the aged often expect a pill or capsule to remedy the situation. The daughter of an elderly woman asked, "Won't vitamins help?" Another was certain that a few hormone injections or a strong tonic would do the trick. In both instances the parents would have improved if they had received a little more attention and had been given enough to do to make them feel wanted. Psychological disturbances are seen more frequently because families are changing. More persons are living in cities where older folks do not fare as well as they do in the country. There is more to do in rural communities and oldsters are not confined indoors because of the hustle-bustle, crowds, and street traffic. In addition, there appears to be a change in our feelings of responsibility. The younger generation is willing to let the government take care of the older generation. Sons and daughters will help in time of need so long as it does not interfere with their own way of life.

Meanwhile, the elderly man or woman is not as inert as his children or grandchildren may think. Mature people hate to be dependent upon others. Furthermore, doubling up prevents them from coming and going freely and, more often than not, they are forced to live some distance from their friends. This is a hardship because part of the joy of growing old is to have time to sit around and be sociable with others. Doubtless Thomases should go to California or Florida in the winter and watch the thousands of men and women in their 70s and 80s having the time of their lives. Those who were active in youth are still energetic and if they enjoyed a cocktail or two when they were 40, they still like to bend their elbow with their cronies. Many remain interested in the opposite sex.

Oldsters are happier when allowed to continue in their own environment, with enough to do. This aspect of growing old is neglected because more people associate old age with disturbances resulting from hardening of the arteries, heart trouble, cancer, arthritis, and difficulties in seeing and hearing. These degenerative processes occur, but emotional difficulties may do more damage than the physical. Happiness is a prerequisite to health and those who are content and free from irritating influences are better able to take the annoyances and discomforts associated with physical ailments. It goes back to the old saying that the future belongs to those who prepare for it. Oldsters who are independent and continue to live in their own surroundings are fortunate.

TOMORROW: The wonder drugs should be used conservatively.

Commerce Dept. Shuns Cuban Request For Technical Aid On Newsprint Manufacture; Newsprint Made Of Bagasse Would Mean Saving For Publishers

WASHINGTON — The Commerce Department doesn't like to discuss it, but its officials have given an amazing run-around to the Cuban government regarding the all-important question of helping U. S. publishers by manufacturing newsprint from sugar cane.

On May 19 the Cuban government requested technical aid from the Eisenhower Administration in developing newsprint from Bagasse, the left-over waste from sugar cane after the sugar is produced. The proposal, which had the blessing of American newspaper publishers, was aimed at breaking the Canadian newsprint monopoly, which has pushed publishing costs so high that some newspapers have gone out of business.

However, the Commerce Department, after four months delay, is still giving the Cuban government the run-around—even though Cuba offered to pay all costs.

Background of the Cuban move was a report made by Democratic Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer on the newsprint situation, sent to Congressman Emanuel Celler of New York chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, October 1 last year. The report told how Bagasse was one means of breaking the Canadian newsprint monopoly, told how the Bureau of Standards had produced paper from bagasse on which the Congressional Record was printed.

"It is technically feasible," said the Sawyer report to Congress, "to manufacture from whole bagasse a paper which is satisfactory in all respects and superior in some, for use as newsprint."

Strange Delay

Already the Grace Steamship Lines have set up a bagasse factory in Peru, where the waste from sugar cane is turned into newsprint. The factory was inspected by Dr. Milton Eisenhower, brother of the President, on his recent trip to South America.

Accordingly, following this precedent, the Cuban government wrote the Commerce Department, via the State Department, May 19, asking for the loan of Jesse Friedman, the Commerce Department expert on bagasse. Cuba proposed paying Friedman's expenses and salary for three or four weeks, during which he would advise them on setting up a newsprint plant.

"... It thus provided maximum security against a search by FBI ..."

It needs to be recalled that the OSS was an espionage organization for work abroad. It had no assignment within the United States. It would seem that in the OSS, Donald Downes' business was to steal the codes and cyphers of embassies which he describes as "Alphonia, Betonia, and Gammonia, and Vichy France." According to him, J. Edgar Hoover was annoyed that the OSS was "penetrating" embassies, which Downes boasts with much pride he did with great success.

Gripe Against FBI

It appears that Downes' gripe against the FBI is that when his operatives were engaged in rifling the "Alphan" embassy in Washington, "... two FBI squad cars pulled up outside the building and turned on their sirens. It awoke everybody. All the lights ..."

He instructed his operatives who telephoned to him:

"... Go home and if you are picked up by the FBI refuse to talk ... So he called General Donovan, who ... went to the White House to protest."

I have been able, at great pains, to check something of this incident. The entire siren sequence is false. On July 30, 1942, there was an incident not far from the "Alphan" embassy—several blocks away. Two men were in a car. They were told to move on. If Senator McCarthy had all this material in a form that could be established under oath, he might produce some really hot stuff.

At any rate, President Roosevelt told Donovan to stay away from the embassies.

Another Tale

The next story that Downes tells

Sen. Fred Seaton, recently named Assistant Secretary of Defense, is still jocularly known in GOP circles as the "catcher on Ike's team," because he used to throw the ball back at Democratic orators during the last campaign. His shrewd analysis of public relations comes naturally to Seaton, a newspaper publisher, and friends say he will do an equally good job as Defense Secretary Charles Wilson's top legislative adviser.

(Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

about the FBI, to show how unpatriotic J. Edgar Hoover is, relates to one Charles Bedeaux, whom I knew very well. According to Downes, two brothers, Guy and Jacques Calvet ("born Cohen"), in Algiers, in 1942, offered their services to the United States.

Charles Bedeaux, an American citizen of French birth, had long lived in the United States where he made an enormous fortune as an industrial engineer. During the war, he tried to sell the Germans the idea of laying a pipeline across the Sahara to bring cheap vegetable oils (mostly peanut oil) from West Africa to Hitler's Europe. (Subsequently, the British expensively and unsuccessfully experimented with Bedeaux's ideas.)

Bedeaux was caught trading with the enemy and was arrested, largely through betrayal, according to Downes, by Guy Calvet. It seems that Downes wanted Calvet to steal some documents from the French Securite Militaire, which he did, making and keeping photostats of the same.

The FBI also got there and interviewed Calvet. But Downes, an American OSS agent, according to his own admission, spied on FBI agents in the course of their duty. According to Downes, the FBI agent, with a Southern accent, (mind, Downes says he was listening behind a half-open door) wanted all the photostats of Bedeaux's papers which Calvet had kept.

First as to the "Southern accent," this is quite amusing. I have questioned that one fact because the veracity of much of Downes' book may hinge on it. Either he was hiding in the tiny Calvet store, where nobody could actually hide, or he heard the "Southern accent" or he was not there. My information is that the FBI operatives, who questioned Calvet, spoke French and Yiddish, mostly French.

Committed Suicide

Bedeaux committed suicide in Florida while under arrest. Downes says: "On his way home under arrest Charles Bedeaux, officially under the surveillance of the FBI, committed suicide when changing planes in Florida. He took poison, bought in Florida. How he managed to get it can only be surmised."

Actually, while the Immigration and Naturalization Service in Miami (not the FBI), on February 18, 1944, Charles Bedeaux died from a self-administered dose of Luminal. He had accumulated small doses, given him for sleeplessness, until he had sufficient for a fatal dose.

These stories are trivial, but out of them Downes tries to give the impression that J. Edgar Hoover and the FBI were traitors during World War II.

Woman Is City's First Hygienist

In years to come, Miss Patricia Parker, 20-year-old dental hygienist, will be able to look back with the knowledge that she was the first person in her profession to practice in Cumberland.

The attractive Miss Parker is a native of Shadyside, Ohio, near Wheeling and graduated in June from West Liberty State College, W. Va. She took the dental hygienist course at West Liberty. Following graduation from high school her parents asked her where she would like to take additional schooling. She picked West Liberty but at the time had no idea she would wind up becoming a dental hygienist.

Once she enrolled she looked over the curriculum and picked the dental work. "I wasn't too enthused over the course at first, but now I love it," she remarked.

She is a member of the staff of Dr. William R. Allen, who has offices in the First National Bank Building. This is her first job.

Miss Parker took the State Board examination for dental hygienists following nine weeks internship work.

Her primary duties are cleaning teeth, taking and developing X-rays, prosthetics and giving information on dental health to patients. According to the laws of the state she is also permitted to administer sodium fluoride treatments, which are aimed at preventing tooth decay.

Some of the courses which Miss Parker took to pass the two-year program to become a dental hygienist include histology, pathology, bacteriology, sterilization, malocclusion, anesthesiology and general anatomy. Psychological and mechanical aptitude tests are also taken prior to the start of the course.

Concerning the Civil War, the author, a West Virginian named John Knowles writes:

"In West Virginia the conflict was a civil war in the bitterest sense, a war within a state, with the battle lines of allegiance running down the center of main streets, through back yards and barnyards, and cutting cruelly through family homes. The eastern panhandle, politically in the North, its loyalties and men with the South, suffered most. Harpers Ferry was battered by successive captures and recaptures. ## Teacher College Experiments In Practice Methods

FROSTBURG—The new plan for student teaching at Frostburg State Teachers College is discussed in the latest Intercollegiate Press Bulletin. The bulletin is a weekly newsletter devoted to college events throughout the United States.

Instead of the customary one semester of practice teaching, seniors at the college this year teach for nine weeks and then return to the campus for methods courses and electives for another nine weeks. The same procedure will be repeated in the second semester.

"This plan," says the Bulletin, has been decided upon by the members of the Department of Education at the instigation of President Lillian C. Compton. It will be a definite modernizing of the program, in line with current thinking.

"Educators today believe that a student who teaches for nine weeks will, during this period, become aware of his own needs for further instruction, and in consequence will learn more avidly when he returns to the campus for methods courses.

"A second advantage is that such a student will be able to correlate more effectively his knowledge gained both through classes and actual teaching experience, since he will be called upon to discuss his problems in the seminar that will be offered him at this time. Thus, he should be better prepared for his second nine weeks of teaching."

The selection was taken from a column in the college newspaper, "State To Date," written by the faculty advisor, Dr. Lucile N. Clay of the English Department.

Bedford firemen, who responded to the alarm, said the blaze evidently resulted from the overheated stove. The building was engulfed in flames by the time the firemen arrived and they were also hampered by a lack of water. The fire was reported by a neighbor who noticed smoke coming from the small home. The neighbor, Clarence Reighard, told authorities, he was unable to enter after he reached the scene, due to the heat of the blaze.

The local group is one of thousands belonging to the national body. Clubs in every state, foreign countries and American possessions are affiliated and carry out programs of study of science.

The local club has elected the following officers: Miss Dorothy Yost, president; Edward Russell, vice president; Agnes M. Dayton, secretary; Joseph Willhide, treasurer; Richard Wells, sergeant at arms; and John Conner, reporter.

Miss Shirley Green, Conner and Donald Gingerich were awarded pens by the Future Scientists of America Foundation recently for outstanding participation in club activities.

The local club expects to have some of its members participate in the various science fairs and contests in the area this year.

Qualifier Set Today For Columbia Course

Mr. G. William Bibby and Mrs. Gordon L. Bowie, outstanding players at the Cumberland Country Club, will be among the qualifiers for the Maryland State Golf Association's championship golf tournament which gets under way today at the Columbia Country Club in the District of Columbia sector.

The 18-hole qualifying round is scheduled for today after which the 36-hole tournament will get under way.

16, according to qualifying
Mrs. Bibby, Cumberland County
champion, is paired with Miss Annette Myers, of the Suburban club, for today's qualifying round
10:40 a. m.

The field will be headed by record-seeking Mrs. Maurice Glick of the Woodholme Country Club and will include Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore Country Club, who ment at the Cumberland Country Club in June.

Mrs. Glick has won the state crown seven times, the last three in succession, and another victory could give her a record unequalled in the 23-year history of this event.

Howard "Chick" Grimm, Oldtown Road, copped four places in two Class "B" amateur events and collected $22.50.

Hemmis will complete in the national championship hill climb at Bethlehem Pa. next Sunday.

only Mrs. E. Boyd, Morrow, of Kirkbridge, has matched the current champion's seven victories. The former ruled the state links during the years 1924-1933.

Mrs. Glick already has annexed this season's Baltimore city title, and figures to encounter her strongest opposition from Miss Downey, Eastern women's title-

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20 (INS)—Mrs. Gary Cooper says that Gary is now in London with Clark Gable, and from there he's going to Paris and later to Spain with Ernest Hemingway for some bird shooting.

What I started to tell you about is that Gary is very interested in "Volcano," which Henry Hathaway will direct in Mexico for 20th Century-Fox. Rocky says Gary is strongly considering accepting 20th's offer.

Then there's another one 20th wants Gary for, and this I get from the studio. It's called "Garden of Evil," which will be a Charles Brackett production.

Rocky said they saw a great deal of Clark Gable when he was in Europe and he had many nice things to say about Susan Dadoile, the good looking model whose name has been linked with Clark's. She said Susan is tall, beautiful and very well bred. As for a permanent reconciliation of the Coopers, this Rocky refuses to discuss.

There was a lot of enthusiasm in Joan Crawford's voice when she told me how much she likes the Margaret Cousins story, "Lucy Galant," which Bill Pine and Bill Thomas bought.

"I read it first in Good Housekeeping," Joan told me, "and it's a typical woman's story. I feel it's high time such a story is made on the screen."

When I checked with Bill Thomas about "Lucy Galant," he said "we're certainly hoping that Joan will do it. But how in the world did you know we had acquired the Cousins story? We thought it was a profound secret!"

"You'd be surprised," I told Bill, "but I'll tell you that I did not get it from the editors of the Hearst magazine."

Eleanor Parker is shopping like mad to get ready to go to Egypt next month to co-star with Robert Taylor in "Valley of the Kings."

She tells me that her mother and father will stay with the children and that she wouldn't have gone that far away if her parents hadn't been living with her, and she has a good nurse. "Also," said Eleanor, "I will only be away three and a half weeks."

As for the property settlement with Bert Friedlob, their attorneys are working it out and it doesn't come up apparently until she gets her interlocutory decree. She has already filed for divorce.

These happy days Frank Sinatra can pick and choose his spots. Before he made "From Here to Eternity" jobs were few and far between—now the line forms to the right.

He and Ava Gardner are talking about renting an apartment in the East, although Ava has to report to MGM and Frankie has any number of movie offers.

Someone made the remark that Frank Sinatra is more popular than any new night club act since Sinatra.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Shelley Winters breaks in her night club act in San Diego before she opens in Las Vegas.

Any edition the Dean Martin baby will arrive at St. John's Hospital. Jeanne has reservations there.

If Esther Williams' baby is a girl she'll call her Juno, after the Greek goddess. And when Esther was asked why, she said because she is tall and so is Ben Gage and her daughter would probably be equally big.

Irene Dunne is in New York to enter her daughter, Mary Frances, in school. Irene expects to spend a great deal of time in the East.

Marilyn Maxwell and Writer Jerry Davis are house hunting in Beverly Hills. Their marriage is set for April.

Jennings Lang hosted a dinner party for 30 in the private room of Romanoff's before the Ice Follies. Joan Crawford acted as his hostess.

Shipstad, Johnson, and Shipstad, owners of the show, gave a supper party at the Beverly Hills Hotel which many of the skating stars attended.

Joan Fontaine is back from Peru where she took her small ward, Martita. The parents were very pleased with the way Joan has cared for Martita, and gave their permission for the little girl to remain permanently with her foster mother.

Richard Dwyer, the personable young skater with the Ice Follies who does a number called "Top Hat and Tails," hails right from Van Nuys, California. Bet the movies don't overlook him this time.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Meeting Date Changed

Allegany County Planning Group No. 1, has changed its meeting date from September 24, to September 25. It is being held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shaw, Lonaconing.

Fashion, beauty, comfort and practicality are yours when you choose a becoming wardrobe of sweaters!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

There was a time when a sweater was something you put on to keep you warm. Not so today—now whole costumes are designed merely as an excuse to display a sweater, and to show off the beauty of its wearer.

For evening any simple sheath or skirt turns into a glamorous fashion merely through the addition of an elaborately embroidered sweater. The kind many women dream about are those with seed pearls, simulated jewels and shimmering silk threads all worked into an elaborate design on exquisite cashmires that are almost gossamer in their sheerness.

In delicate pastel shades they are about as any adjunct could be. Less-elaborate sweaters, usually of heavier yarns and more definitely-stated colors. Often such sweaters are made to order with specially-designed motifs to express the wearer's particular tastes, and some are quite inspired, to say the least. Today these are the last word in fashion and also in feminine flattery.

Wide Variety

Contrasting trim of angora, ribbon trimmed edging often in double rows or bows, cable-knit designs, rows of ribbing or loose yarns that suggest tucking or open work are all touches that are being used currently to add an ingenious or different note.

Your choice in shapes ranges from classic to scooped necks, halter and regular necks, high and low turtle necks, v's with and without collars, high and low v's and even v's that dip deep in back. From France and Italy "jumper" types are being imported that are more of a blouse than a sweater. Some are most distinctive and are definitely flatterers.

Classic Beauty

Many are hailing the return of the classic combination of dyed-to-match sweaters and skirts in both cashmere and cashmere blends. Pastel colors flecked thru dark backgrounds are highly favored for the season ahead. The classic skirt is the leader for daytime wear with sweaters, and tweeds and gabardine are the favored fabrics.

With so much variety, wearability, comfort and beauty from which to choose, it's no wonder that collecting a large wardrobe

Chamber Acquiring Options On Land For Industries

Sites available for industrial use are just as necessary as the other factors for plant location, according to Albert H. Hargreaves, director of Industrial Promotion, Cumberland Chamber of Commerce. It explains the action being taken by the Chamber of Commerce in acquiring options on land in the Cumberland area.

The Chamber of Commerce representative explained that by having options already arranged, it is then possible to offer property for the exact price and for the prospective buyer to compute costs for comparison purposes.

Options already obtained include those on land along McMullen Highway on either side of the Potomac River. Other options will be sought north and south of the city. The options contain standard provisions, including the right to the prospective buyer to drill the property to determine the firmness of the subsoil.

The Chamber official let it be known that if anyone has property they consider suitable for industrial purposes to submit a description of the property, including location and price, to the Chamber of Commerce. He also expressed the conviction that owners of suitable sites would be sufficiently public spirited to grant such options for reasonable periods of time.

Theater Tussle Costs Pair $50

BALTIMORE, Sept. 20 (UP)—Morris Beber, 41-year-old cab driver, and Otto W. Sparks, 57, a clerk, were fined $25 each recently on charges of disorderly conduct after they tussled in a downtown theater.

Five police cars were called to end the disturbance caused, Beber said, when he found Sparks and Mrs. Beber sitting arm-in-arm in the movie. Beber was accused of belting Sparks with a tire wrench.

The regularly scheduled feature at the theater was "The Story of Three Loves."

Jennings Lang hosted a dinner party for 30 in the private room of Romanoff's before the Ice Follies. Joan Crawford acted as his hostess.

Shipstad, Johnson, and Shipstad, owners of the show, gave a supper party at the Beverly Hills Hotel which many of the skating stars attended.

Joan Fontaine is back from Peru where she took her small ward, Martita. The parents were very pleased with the way Joan has cared for Martita, and gave their permission for the little girl to remain permanently with her foster mother.

Richard Dwyer, the personable young skater with the Ice Follies who does a number called "Top Hat and Tails," hails right from Van Nuys, California. Bet the movies don't overlook him this time.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Fashion, beauty, comfort and practicality are yours when you choose a becoming wardrobe of sweaters!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

There was a time when a sweater was something you put on to keep you warm. Not so today—now whole costumes are designed merely as an excuse to display a sweater, and to show off the beauty of its wearer.

For evening any simple sheath or skirt turns into a glamorous fashion merely through the addition of an elaborately embroidered sweater. The kind many women dream about are those with seed pearls, simulated jewels and shimmering silk threads all worked into an elaborate design on exquisite cashmeres that are almost gossamer in their sheerness.

In delicate pastel shades they are about as flattering a bit of femininity as any adjunct could be. Less-elaborate embroidery appears on daytime sweaters, usually of heavier yarns and more definitely-stated colors. Often such sweaters are made to order with specially-designed motifs to express the wearer's particular tastes, and some are quite inspired, to say the least. Today these are the last word in fashion and also in feminine flattery.

Wide Variety
Contrasting trim of angora, ribbon trimmed edging often in double rows or bows, cable-knit designs, rows of ribbing or loose yarns that suggest tucking or open work are all touches that are being used currently to add an ingenious or different note.

Your choice in shapes ranges from classic to scooped necks, halter and regular necks, high and low turtle necks, v's with and without collars, high and low v's and even v's that dip deep in back. From France and Italy "jumper" types are being imported that are more of a blouse than a sweater. Some are most distinctive and are definitely flatterers.

Classic Beauty
Many are hailing the return of the classic combination of dyed-to-match sweaters and skirts in both cashmere and cashmere blends. Pastel colors flecked through dark backgrounds are highly favored for the season ahead. The classic skirt is the leader for daytime wear with sweaters, and tweeds and gabardine are the favored fabrics.

With so much variety, wearability, comfort and beauty from which to choose, it's no wonder that collecting a large wardrobe of sweaters is the goal of many a charmer!

Radio And Television

by John Crosby

The Last TV First

It's always a pleasure to welcome Jack Benny back. Naturally, I was right there, waiting. I didn't know Marilyn Monroe was going to be on. Honest! I was just sitting there enjoying Mr. Benny and suddenly this blonde shows up. Quite a lot of blonde.

It may easily have been the best kept secret of the year. Oh, there were a couple of press releases and maybe a quarter page ad here and there but, in general, they kept her under wraps. Then just before she marched out in front of the cameras, they removed the wraps—most of them anyhow.

This was a television first of some dimension. I remember way back when they first linked New York and Philadelphia. Then Chicago swam into view. Finally came Los Angeles, throwing open the far west to Milton Berle. Gads, historic moments on TV we've all shared—Kefauver, Virginia Hill, J. Fred Muggs, Queen Elizabeth II, the bonfire at the Democratic National Convention, Arthur Godfrey in four colors, Harry Truman playing Mozart.

And now that we've seen Marilyn, live and in the flesh—as much flesh as the law allows—I don't know what we've got to look forward to. This may be the last of all television firsts. It's going to take an awful lot to surprise me from now on.

It would have been interesting to have been in on the story conference when the Benny crowd found out they had Marilyn Monroe on their hands. After all these years, I think I know how the mind of a gagwriter works and it's my guess that at least one of them leaped in with the suggestion, "We'll put the girl in a Mother Hubbard." A gagwriter's mind runs strongly toward the old switcheroo and veiling the Monroe shape would have been about the biggest switcheroo of all time.

If such a suggestion was made, it was overruled, conceivably by Miss Monroe. She came aboard in a white dress so tight-fitting that it must have taken all four of Benny's gagwriters to hook her into it. From there on she was pure Marilyn Monroe, a girl who has made a very good thing out of sex and isn't going to be talked out of it by any gagwriters. She batted her sleepy eyelids at Benny, pawed him in a way that made me very nervous, spoke in that babyish, almost European whisper which she must have invented because it has no real reason for existing, and sang at him.

In short she behaved just exactly as you'd expect Marilyn Monroe to behave. You may think it odd of me to be so surprised about this, but I am. The trend is all the other way. The usual thing is to take Helen Traubel and make a clown of her. Or you take some big muscle man like Buddy Baer and make him mince around the stage with his hands on his hips. Or make Margaret O'Brien and grinds. Never, never do you allow them to be themselves. In that regard, Miss Monroe's appearance was a triumph. Or perhaps that's the only way she can act.

The Jack Benny show—I knew Mr. Benny would get in here eventually if you'd just be patient—was not the funniest one I'd ever seen, possibly because our minds were elsewhere. But it was the usual smooth, relaxed, professional job. On radio, Benny relied heavily on his expert stooges and sometimes almost vanishes from the show entirely. On television, more and more he's doing most of the work himself with surprising ease.

If memory serves, he was on this show for the entire half hour, sometimes entirely alone. It was quite a tour de force. He'll do a show every three weeks this year and there'll be 12 more.

Daily Bridge Lesson by Shepard Barclay

BASIS OF A SOUND PLAN
ONE SIMPLE rule of planning probably applies to any field of activity. It is that, before figuring out the modus operandi, the planner should first know what he is trying to do. In the case of a No Trump declarer, that means deciding what tricks he will try to take. First, and most important of all, he should count up the tricks which are immediately available to him. If those are not enough for his contract, he then should look for chances to score the additional ones he requires. In then deciding his course, he should protect himself against any unnecessary risks.

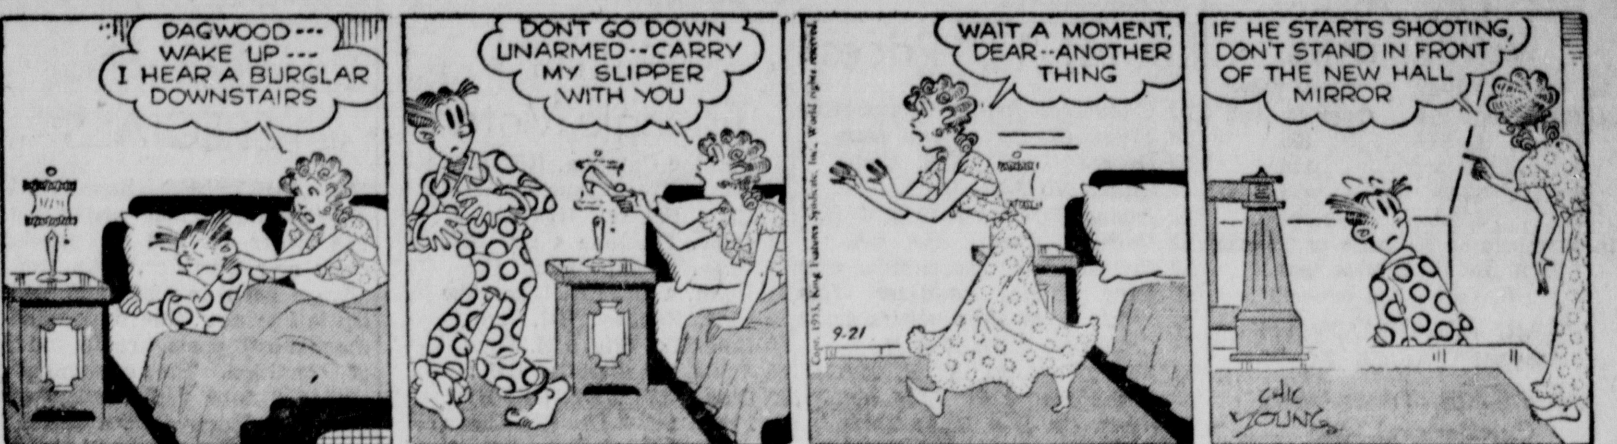

|           |       |
|-----------|-------|
| Q 7 4 3 2 | Q 8 6 |
| K 10      | Q 5   |
| 9 4       | J 8   |
| K 16      | 3 2   |
| Q 10 9 5  | 7 5   |
| 3 2       | 8     |

West would have won that with the J, and would have hammered out one of dummy's club honors on the return. The diamond Q finesse then would have lost, but when West returned another club, it would have been to the dummy's last stopper. South then could have run home with the tricks he needed.

What is the proper defense to beat South's 3-No Trumps, bid by standard procedure?

City Plans To Honor Sgt. Cummings Today

Reception Set For Hero's Homecoming

Another Cumberland POW will return home today, and officials last night prepared for a public welcoming celebration for the war hero. Howard M. Spiker, chairman of the committee on arrangements, said Mr. Cummings, 33-year-old son of Mrs. Ethel Emmart, 335 Central Avenue, arrived from the Far East yesterday in San Francisco aboard the USS Brewster.

Four Teenagers Are Arrested In Stolen Car

Three Boys, Girl Jailed Overnight

Four Cumberland teenagers, including a girl of 15, were arrested Saturday night in a stolen car which police said they had been using for three days.

One of the three boys in the group—a 15-year-old West Side youth—is currently on parole from a Juvenile Court sentence imposed several months ago after he had admitted stealing 12 cars.

Another West Side boy, 16 years old, is on parole after having been sentenced in Juvenile Court in connection with a morals case several months ago.

The oldest boy, a 17-year-old Hay Street resident, is being held in City Jail. The other two boys were lodged in juvenile detention quarters at the County Infirmary, and the girl was released in custody of her parents.

City Detective Roy C. Hawse said the youngsters were arrested on West Virginia State Route 28 at the Pinto Road by West Virginia State Police Trooper W. Frank Bowley, whose attention had been attracted by the 17-year-old boy's erratic driving.

When the youths could not produce drivers' licenses or registration cards for the car, the officer took them to jail at Keyser. Maryland State Police Trooper First Class A. M. Spioch brought them back to Cumberland yesterday at the request of city authorities.

Hawse said the car, owned by Paul W. DeMoss, RFD 3, Bedford, Pa., was stolen Thursday night from Salem Street. The boys were quoted as saying they had been using the car only at night, abandoning it in the daytime.

The girl reportedly said she met the boys as they left a downtown theater Saturday night and went with them to a nearby parking lot, where they had been keeping the car. She said she didn't know it was a stolen vehicle until police arrested them.

The teenagers will be taken to Juvenile Court today.

B&O Adds New Streamliners, Reduces Fare

A reduction in rail fares from Baltimore to Washington along with more frequent and improved service will go into effect September 28 when the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad places a fleet of new streamliners into operation, Howard E. Simpson, president of the railroad, announced.

This new B&O service will add four trains westbound and five new eastbound trains to the existing Baltimore-Washington run. This gives the railroad 25 trains each way between the two cities. Eleven of these trains will feature the new streamlined streamliners.

The new Baltimore-Washington service will also mark the passing of steam locomotives on this historic run. All trains operated by the B&O now will be dieselized and air conditioned.

Also going into effect with the dieselized trains will be reduced round-trip daily coach fare of $2. The reduced tickets will be valid on trains leaving between 10 a. m. and 1 a. m. each day Monday through Friday. The tickets will be honored on all trains Saturdays and Sundays.

The new streamlined cars are self-propelled coaches and have a cruising speed in excess of 80 miles per hour. The railroad has arranged to have the cars on exhibition to the public September 22-25 at Mt. Royal and Camden stations in Baltimore, at Laurel and at Union station in Washington.

Wills Creek Flood Control Work Progresses

The new streamlined look which the bed of Wills Creek is being given as part of the current phase of the Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Control Project is illustrated in this bird's eye view from the cliffs on Wills Mountain above the stream. The concrete splash wall along the far side of the creekbed is clearly visible here at a point just inside the eastern end of The Narrows. The steamship-proved bridge supports also are part of the scheme, the principle of which is to speed up and confine the flow of water when the creek is near flood stage. The concrete wall and lack of obstructions in the creek bed let the water flow as rapidly as possible, thereby keeping the level down below flood stage. Shown to the right of the bridge is the newly-improved section of U. S. Route 40, where the road has been widened and raised four feet on the outer edge of the curve. In the foreground is part of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad line, and the Western Maryland Railway line lies in the background on the far side of the stream. Another part of the project includes construction of a new industrial dam over the Potomac which is underway.

Planes Will 'Buzz' City During Alert

Fifty-four airplanes, including four jets, will sweep over major Maryland communities tomorrow to observe how motorists respect the traffic ban during a six-minute statewide air raid alert.

Civil Defense officials have ordered all traffic except emergency vehicles held up during the practice alarm beginning 2:01 p. m. (EDT).

The ban will not apply to fire-fighting equipment, ambulances, civil defense vehicles or cars operated by accredited newsmen covering the alert.

Besides the airplanes, several helicopters will be used to patrol the air over Baltimore and 19 other communities.

They include Cumberland, Hagerstown, Frederick, Westminster, Annapolis, Elkton, Salisbury, Bel Air, Havre de Grace, Chestertown, Centerville, Easton, Denton, Cambridge, Hyattsville, Silver Spring, Rockville, Upper Marlboro and Laurel.

Pilots of the aircraft will report their observations to CD headquarters in Pikesville. They also will advise officials on the response of the public to the alert. Shirley Ewing, state civil defense director, and Col. Frank Milani, head of the Baltimore CD unit, yesterday laid down these rules for the alert:

1. All persons will seek shelter in officially designated CD stations, if available. Otherwise, they should obtain shelter in doorways or similar places.

2. All vehicles will stop at the side of the road, leaving room for passage of emergency vehicles.

3. No unnecessary telephone calls must be made during the alert.

The drill will be observed by all schools in the state.

More than 200 Baltimore industrial and business firms will cooperate in the alert. The Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania railroads announced all trains except one express will be stopped.

At Marlboro Racetrack the second race, normally started at 2 p. m., will be postponed to 2:12 p. m.

Chest Campaign Director To Be Paid $1,500

Office Opened To Start Annual Fund Drive

Hoping to curtail the expenses in the annual Community Chest campaign, the organization did not employ a firm of professional money-raisers this year. According to Lynn C. Leshley, president of the chest, William H. Buchholz, 713 Fayette Street, general campaign chairman, will be paid $1,500 to serve as campaign director.

Buchholz, who served two terms as city finance commissioner, was until recently, manager of the local office of the National Discount Corporation, Pershing Street.

Campaign headquarters have been opened in the Union Trust County Building with Buchholz and Mrs. Anne B. Everline, secretary of the Chest in charge. The drive is scheduled to get underway early in October.

The goal for this year's Red Feather campaign has been fixed at $94,492.75. Originally, the quota had been set at $108,492.75. However, the Salvation Army has announced its withdrawal from the Chest, thus reducing Red Feather campaign requirements by $14,000. The Army, through its board chairman Lewis J. Ort, said it could not operate on the limited allowance from the Chest and will conduct its own public drive for funds, at a time to be announced this year.

The Community Chest now includes eight agencies, seven of which are allotted funds. The Jewish Welfare Society is a member agency but it asks for only one dollar a year in Chest funds.

Other agencies and this year's allotment as budgeted by the Chest include, The Associated Charities, $28,100; Central YMCA, $22,000; Girl Scouts, $8,200; Boy Scouts, $8,000; Keating Day Nursery, $5,700; Baby Welfare, $2,700; Travelers Aid, $1,600.

The Chest campaign Advance Gift Committee, William C. Walsh, chairman, is scheduled to meet at Central YMCA today to review its part of the solicitation.

Today's Sermonette

Take ye away the stone. St. John 11:39.

Today's sermonette is a digest of the sermon preached yesterday at McKendree Methodist Church by the minister, Rev. George T. C. Bell. The sermon digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

Man's Cooperation

By REV. GEORGE T. C. BELL

Sympathizing friends, the broken-hearted sisters, and the weeping Saviour, stand around the silent grave, and Jesus says, "Take ye away the stone."

Now God requires man's cooperation, as the condition of the bestowment of his blessings. We see in our mind's eye picture, Israel at the Red Sea. Egyptians pursuing, mountains on either hand, and the raging sea in front. God says to Moses, "Reach hither thy rod and smite the water." Had Moses cavilled and said, "I misinterpret the voice that I hear; the act has no meaning, and cannot be the command of God; I shall wait for a command in keeping with His almighty mind"—What in the meantime would the Egyptians have been doing? Would they ever have mounted the opposite bank and sung over the graves of their foes:

"Sound the loud timbrel o'er Egypt's dark sea,
Jehovah has triumphed, his people are free!"

Again in the borders of their home they are encamped at Gilgal. Land occupied by enemies. Jericho with its walls in the distance is the first scene of conflict. God says, "Go around the wall seven times, etc. and they shall fall." See them moving silently round. No weapons. No display. Simply obeying God. Proud spies from the top of the wall hurl sarcastic remarks and laugh them to scorn. The man who is obeying God can afford to bear a laugh, for he is marching forward to certain victory, and nothing beneath the stars can do him a lasting damage. How speedily the laugh changed faces. How they were cast down as in a moment. God's needed grace and help, and man honestly doing his duty, are never remote from each other.

The blind man requesting his sight, Jesus passing clay over his eyes and saying, "Go wash in the pool of Siloam." After the disciples had fished all night and caught nothing, Jesus said "Cast the net on the right side of the ship." Because they believed in the Lord Jesus Christ and cooperated with Him by obeying, they were rewarded in the things they desired.

The stone that God requires his people to take away is the stone of inconsistency. This lies upon the bosom of the Church, and through God will call dead souls to life! It is composed of a variety of smaller stones brought together and unitedly and severally bearing that name. These are as follows:

1. A spirit of worldliness not in keeping with our professed belief in the future.

2. Carelessly or not at all discharged religious duties.

3. Disregard to the dangers of the unconverted.

4. Disregard of equity in dealing.

5. The absence of the spirit and mind of Christ in life.

God does for us what we cannot do for ourselves. "Take ye away the stone." You see the people had put it there. When they took the stone from the grave, it was possible then for Jesus to say, "Lazarus come forth." God's act alone. The next act falls within the people's sphere. "Loose him." If they had refused, what would have become of Lazarus? For all we know he might have fallen back into his grave and died. Be that as it may, we cannot get rid of the dreadful impression that many souls have been awakened by the voice of God, and even set upright in their spiritual graves, but have fallen back and perished, because there was no sympathy or encouragement in the Church to loose them and let them go.

God intends that by taking away the stones of everyday life, in Christian duty His people shall have wisdom and moral muscle to loose them, when He calls dead souls to life.

Unconverted friend, no being in the universe can move away the stone but yourself. Not even God will take it away without your wholehearted desire and help.

So why not "Take ye away the stone."

Quick action by City Police last night landed two brothers in jail within 20 minutes after the time they are accused of stealing a radio from an automobile on a used car lot.

The prisoners were booked as Robert L. Mearkle, 211 Knox Street, and Paul D. Mearkle, 94 Langley Road, Baltimore.

W. J. Moore, operator of Moore Motor Sales, 239 North Mechanic Street, told police he had left his lot unattended for a short time last night while he went out to tow in a damaged car.

When he returned at 9 p. m. he saw two men run from one of the cars at his lot, jump into a car parked at the curb and speed away. Moore took the license number, then checked the car where he had seen them. The car radio was missing.

At 9:15 p. m., Officer E. Gordon Hite spotted the car in Dexter Place. Assistant Chief B. F. Gaffney said the radio was found in the trunk of their car, and that both the Mearkle brothers had admitted the theft.

Pair Jailed In Theft Of Purse From Woman, 76

Loot Totals Only 50 Cents

A Christie Road man and a Cumberland youth are being held in City Jail in connection with the theft of a purse from a 76-year-old woman as she crossed a busy downtown street Thursday night.

The prisoners, apprehended within 48 hours after the theft, were booked as Raymond Everett, 23, of Route 2, Christie Road, and Carl Raymond Rice, 17, of Golden Lane.

Police said both had admitted plotting to steal Mrs. Ella Hileary's pocketbook as she left a store at North Centre and Frederick streets, only a block away from the Police Station. Mrs. Hileary lives at 57 North Centre Street.

Assistant Chief B. Frank Gaffney said Everett and Rice were taken to the State's Attorney's office today for further questioning. Charges are pending the outcome of that session.

Police said Everett had walked into Police Headquarters after the theft and had booked himself as a "sleeper," a transient without a place to stay.

Assistant Chief Gaffney and Officer E. Gordon Hite said they had seen two young men standing at the scene a few minutes before the theft took place.

On Saturday night, Officer Hite picked up Rice on Baltimore Street, identifying him as one of the men he had seen. Everett was picked up by Officers Charles W. Thompson and Walter P. Dennison yesterday afternoon on Virginia Avenue.

Gaffney and Detective Roy C. Hawse said both prisoners had admitted plotting the theft, and that both had said the younger youth had grabbed the purse and run into a nearby alley. Later, they said, they met and divided the loot—50 cents.

Mrs. Hileary had placed her cash—$15—in a concealed compartment in the purse.

Pair Jailed In Theft Of Purse From Woman, 76

Loot Totals Only 50 Cents

A Christie Road man and a Cumberland youth are being held in City Jail in connection with the theft of a purse from a 76-year-old woman as she crossed a busy downtown street Thursday night.

The prisoners, apprehended within 48 hours after the theft, were booked as Raymond Everett, 23, of Route 2, Christie Road, and Carl Raymond Rice, 17, of Golden Lane.

Police said both had admitted plotting to steal Mrs. Ella Hileary's pocketbook as she left a store at North Centre and Frederick streets, only a block away from the Police Station. Mrs. Hileary lives at 57 North Centre Street.

Assistant Chief B. Frank Gaffney said Everett and Rice were taken to the State's Attorney's office today for further questioning. Charges are pending the outcome of that session.

Police said Everett had walked into Police Headquarters after the theft and had booked himself as a "sleeper," a transient without a place to stay.

Assistant Chief Gaffney and Officer E. Gordon Hite said they had seen two young men standing at the scene a few minutes before the theft took place.

On Saturday night, Officer Hite picked up Rice on Baltimore Street, identifying him as one of the men he had seen. Everett was picked up by Officers Charles W. Thompson and Walter P. Dennison yesterday afternoon on Virginia Avenue.

Gaffney and Detective Roy C. Hawse said both prisoners had admitted plotting the theft, and that both had said the younger youth had grabbed the purse and run into a nearby alley. Later, they said, they met and divided the loot—50 cents.

Mrs. Hileary had placed her cash—$15—in a concealed compartment in the purse.

Four Teenagers Are Arrested In Stolen Car

Three Boys, Girl Jailed Overnight

Four Cumberland teenagers, including a girl of 15, were arrested Saturday night in a stolen car which police said they had been using for three days.

One of the three boys in the group—a 15-year-old West Side youth—is currently on parole from a Juvenile Court sentence imposed several months ago after he had admitted stealing 12 cars.

Another West Side boy, 16 years old, is on parole after having been sentenced in Juvenile Court in connection with a morals case several months ago.

The oldest boy, a 17-year-old Hay Street resident, is being held in City Jail. The other two boys were lodged in juvenile detention quarters at the County Infirmary, and the girl was released in custody of her parents.

City Detective Roy C. Hawse said the youngsters were arrested on West Virginia State Route 28 at the Pinto Road by West Virginia State Police Trooper W. Frank Bowley, whose attention had been attracted by the 17-year-old boy's erratic driving.

When the youths could not produce drivers' licenses or registration cards for the car, the officer took them to jail at Keyser. Maryland State Police Trooper First Class A. M. Spioch brought them back to Cumberland yesterday at the request of city authorities.

Hawse said the car, owned by Paul W. DeMoss, RFD 3, Bedford, Pa., was stolen Thursday night from Salem Street. The boys were quoted as saying they had been using the car only at night, abandoning it in the daytime.

The girl reportedly said she met the boys as they left a downtown theater Saturday night and went with them to a nearby parking lot, where they had been keeping the car. She said she didn't know it was a stolen vehicle until police arrested them.

The teenagers will be taken to Juvenile Court today.

B&O Adds New Streamliners, Reduces Fare

A reduction in rail fares from Baltimore to Washington along with more frequent and improved service will go into effect September 28 when the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad places a fleet of new Streamliners into operation, Howard E. Simpson, president of the railroad, announced.

The new B&O service will add four trains westbound and five new eastbound trains to the existing Baltimore-Washington run. This gives the railroad 25 trains each way between the two cities. Eleven of these trains will feature the new streamlined Streamliners.

The new Baltimore-Washington service will also mark the passing of steam locomotives on this historic run. All trains operated by the B&O now will be dieselized and air conditioned.

Also going into effect with the dieselized trains will be reduced round-trip daily coach fare of $2. The reduced tickets will be valid on trains leaving between 10 a. m. and 1 a. m. each day Monday through Friday. The tickets will be honored on all trains Saturdays and Sundays.

The new streamlined cars are self-propelled coaches and have a cruising speed in excess of 80 miles per hour. The railroad has arranged to have the cars on exhibition to the public September 22-23 at Mt. Royal and Camden stations in Baltimore, at Laurel and at Union station in Washington.

Wills Creek Flood Control Work Progresses

The new streamlined look which the bed of Wills Creek is being given as part of the current phase of the Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Control Project is illustrated in this bird's eye view from the cliffs on Wills Mountain above the stream. The concrete splash wall along the far side of the creekbed is clearly visible here at a point just inside the eastern end of The Narrows. The steamship-proved bridge supports also are part of the scheme, the principle of which is to speed up and confine the flow of water when the creek is near flood stage. The concrete wall and lack of obstructions in the creek bed let the water flow as rapidly as possible, thereby keeping the level down below flood stage. Shown to the right of the bridge is the newly-improved section of U. S. Route 40, where the road has been widened and raised four feet on the outer edge of the curve. In the foreground is part of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad line, and the Western Maryland Railway line lies in the background on the far side of the stream. Another part of the project includes construction of a new industrial dam over the Potomac which is underway.

Planes Will 'Buzz' City During Alert

Fifty-four airplanes, including four jets, will sweep over major Maryland communities tomorrow to observe how motorists respect the traffic ban during a six-minute statewide air raid alert.

Civil Defense officials have ordered all traffic except emergency vehicles held up during the practice alarm beginning 2:01 p. m. (EDT).

The ban will not apply to fire-fighting equipment, ambulances, civil defense vehicles or cars operated by accredited newsmen covering the alert.

Besides the airplanes, several helicopters will be used to patrol the air over Baltimore and 19 other communities.

They include Cumberland, Hagerstown, Frederick, Westminster, Annapolis, Elkhart, Salisbury, Bel Air, Havre de Grace, Chestertown, Centreville, Easton, Denton, Cambridge, Hyattsville, Silver Spring, Rockville, Upper Marlboro and Laurel.

Pilot of the aircraft will report their observations to CD headquarters in Pikesville. They also will advise officials on the response of the public to the alert. Sherly Ewing, state civil defense director, and Col. Frank Milani, head of the Baltimore CD unit, yesterday laid down these rules for the alert:

1. All persons will seek shelter in officially designated CD stations, if available. Otherwise, they should obtain shelter in doorways or similar places.
2. All vehicles will stop at the side of the road, leaving room for passage of emergency vehicles.
3. No unnecessary telephone calls must be made during the alert.

The drill will be observed by all schools in the state.

More than 200 Baltimore industrial and business firms will cooperate in the alert. The Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania railroads announced all trains except one express will be stopped.

At Marlboro Racetrack the second race, normally started at 2 p. m., will be postponed to 2:12 p. m.

Chest Campaign Director To Be Paid $1,500

Office Opened To Start Annual Fund Drive

Hoping to curtail the expenses in the annual Community Chest campaign, the organization did not employ a firm of professional money-raisers this year. According to Lynn C. Lashley, president of the chest, William H. Buchholz, 713 Fayette Street, general campaign chairman, will be paid $1,500 to serve as campaign director.

Buchholz, who served two terms as city finance commissioner, was until recently, manager of the local office of the National Discount Corporation, Pershing Street.

Campaign headquarters have been opened in the Union Street County Building with Buchholz and Mrs. Anne B. Everline, secretary of the Chest in charge. The drive is scheduled to get underway early in October.

The goal for this year's Red Feather campaign has been fixed at $94,492.75. Originally, the quota had been set at $108,492.75. However, the Salvation Army has announced its withdrawal from the Chest, thus reducing Red Feather campaign requirements by $14,000. The Army, through its board chairman Lewis J. Ort, said it could not operate on the limited allowance from the Chest and will conduct its own public drive for funds, at a time to be announced this year.

The Community Chest now includes eight agencies, seven of which are allotted funds. The Jewish Welfare Society is a member agency but it asks for only one dollar a year in Chest funds.

Other agencies and this year's allotment as budgeted by the Chest include, The Associated Charities, $26,100; Central YMCA, $22,000; Girl Scouts, $8,200; Boy Scouts, $8,000; Keating Day Nursery, $5,700; Baby Welfare, $2,700; Travelers Aid, $1,600.

The Chest campaign Advance Gift Committee, William C. Walsh, chairman, is scheduled to meet at Central YMCA today to review its part of the solicitation.

Today's Sermonette

Take ye away the stone. St. John 11:39.

Today's sermonette is a digest of the sermon preached yesterday at McKendree Methodist Church by the minister, Rev. George T. C. Bell. The sermon digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

Man's Cooperation

By REV. GEORGE T. C. BELL

Sympathizing friends, the brokenhearted sisters, and the weeping Saviour, stand around the silent grave, and Jesus says, "Take ye away the stone."

Now God requires man's cooperation, as the condition of the bestowment of his blessings. We see in our mind's eye picture, Israel at the Red Sea. Egyptians pursuing, mountains on either hand, and the raging sea in front. God says to Moses, "Reach hither thy rod and smite the water." Had Moses cavilled and said, "I misinterpret the voice that I hear; the act has no meaning, and cannot be the command of God; I shall wait for a command in keeping with His almighty mind"—What in the meantime would the Egyptians have been doing? What would have become of the Israelites? Would they ever have mounted the opposite bank and sung over the graves of their foes:

"Sound the loud timbrel o'er Egypt's dark sea,
Jehovah has triumphed, his people are free?"

Again in the borders of their home they are encamped at Gilgal. Land occupied by enemies, Jericho with its walls in the distance is the first scene of conflict. God says, "Go around the wall seven times, etc. and they shall fall." See them moving silently round. No weapons. No display. Simply obeying God. Proud spies from the top of the wall hurl sarcastic remarks and laugh them to scorn. The man who is obeying God can afford to bear a laugh, for he is marching forward to certain victory, and nothing beneath the stars can do him a lasting damage. How speedily the laugh changed faces. How they were cast down as in a moment. God's needed grace and help, and man honestly doing his duty, are never remote from each other.

The blind man requesting his sight, Jesus pasting clay over his eyes and saying, "Go wash in the pool of Siloam." After the disciples had fished all night and caught nothing, Jesus said "Cast the net on the right side of the ship." Because they believed in the Lord Jesus Christ and cooperated with Him by obeying, they were rewarded in the things they desired.

The stone that God requires his people to take away is the stone of inconsistency. This lies upon the bosom of the Church, and through God will call dead souls to life! It is composed of a variety of smaller stones brought together and unitedly and severally bearing that name. These are as follows:

1. A spirit of worldliness not in keeping with our professed belief in the future.
2. Carelessly or not at all discharged religious duties.
3. Disregard to the dangers of the unconverted.
4. Disregard of equity in dealing.
5. The absence of the spirit and mind of Christ in life.

God does for us what we cannot do for ourselves. "Take ye away the stone." You see the people had put it there. When they took the stone from the grave, it was possible then for Jesus to say, "Lazarus come forth." God's act alone. The next act falls within the people's sphere, "Loose him." If they had refused, what would have become of Lazarus? For all we know he might have fallen back into his grave and died. Be that as it may, we cannot get rid of the dreadful impression that many souls have been awakened by the voice of God, and even sat upright in their spiritual graves, but have fallen back and perished because there was no sympathy or encouragement in the Church to loose them and let them go.

God intends that by taking away the stones of everyday life, in Christian duty His people shall have wisdom and moral muscle to loose them, when He calls dead souls to life.

Unconverted friend, no being in the universe can move away the stone but yourself. Not even God will take it away without your wholehearted desire and help. So why not "Take ye away the stone."

Rev. Bell

Unconverted friend, no being in the universe can move away the stone but yourself. Not even God will take it away without your wholehearted desire and help. So why not "Take ye away the stone."

Brothers Jailed In Radio Theft

Quick action by City Police last night landed two brothers in jail within 20 minutes after the time they are accused of stealing a radio from an automobile on a used car lot.

The prisoners were booked as Robert L. Mearkle, 211 Knox Street, and Paul D. Mearkle, 94 Langley Road, Baltimore.

W. J. Moore, operator of Moore Motor Sales, 239 North Mechanic Street, told police he had left his lot unattended for a short time last night while he went out to tow in a damaged car.

When he returned at 9 p. m. he saw two men run from one of the cars at his lot, jump into a car parked at the curb and speed away. Moore took the license number, then checked the car where he had seen them. The car radio was missing.

At 9:15 p. m., Officer E. Gordon Hite spotted the car in Dexter Place. Assistant Chief B. F. Gaffney said the radio was found in the trunk of their car, and that both the Mearkle brothers had admitted the theft.

Campaign Takes Shape At Young Demos Meeting

Speakers Attack Gov. McKeldin

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

OCEAN CITY, Md., Sept. 20 (AP)—Outlines of the 1954 campaign grew sharper over the weekend with Democrats begging for harmony but evidently well satisfied all around with one line of attack on Maryland's Republican administration.

Their agreement, expressed with lusty applause at the convention of the state's Young Democratic Clubs, was on an accusation Gov. McKeldin spends too much time making speeches.

Leaders Plead For Unity

Reaction to the twice-voiced charge indicated Democratic candidates will speak frequently themselves on the point. The convention brought hundreds of visitors to this resort, among them, some of the state's leading Democrats. They pleaded for unity to fortify the party for a drive to regain offices lost the last two elections, but sounds of discord roared with the surf.

Former Gov. William Preston Lane Jr., was clearly the convention favorite. He always has been popular with the organization and an obvious majority of the 129 delegates and their guests demonstrated his overwhelming defeat by McKeldin three years ago has not turned their shoulders.

Some talked of persuading Lane to run again and insisted their state membership of 650 represented an even broader segment of voters.

The former governor reiterated he has no ambition to hit the campaign trail but didn't snap a lock on the possibility. And he was first to assert that McKeldin ought to spend more time in the statehouse and less on the speakers platform.

McKeldin is a professional orator and much in demand. Democratic politicians laying in campaign stores have remarked on the fact in the past. Lane cracked on it in one of his sharpest speeches, delivered in his first starring role at a major statewide function since he left Annapolis for the aircraft industry in Hagerstown.

Audience Applauds Jab
His audience clapped louder at the jab at McKeldin's pastime than at any other criticism of the present administration.

The convention followed up with noisy support of a resolution slapping Republican "officials" for engaging in "oratorical and other private occupations for personal gain and remuneration."

McKeldin was plainly a suspect. Thomas B. R. Mudd, commissioner of motor vehicles, was said to be another.

Most of the possible 1954 contenders for governor appeared for the bi-ennial convention and acted as if the campaign were underway. Mayor Thomas D'Alessandro of Baltimore blasted George P. Mahoney in his keynote address. Mahoney pooh-poohed D'Alessandro's charges of "mud slinging" the party to defeat. He retorted in conversation that he had twice beaten the state organization with popular majorities in the primaries.

D'Alessandro is an announced candidate. Mahoney has been barnstorming like one and recalling that the organization has dropped two straight elections.

The Baltimore contractor and former national committeeman lost 1950 gubernatorial nomination to Lane by block voting in convention, won the senatorial primary last year, but went down in the general election.

Byrd Attends Banquet
Dr. H. C. Byrd, president of the University of Maryland, attended the convention banquet but did not linger. He has acknowledged he would like to be governor.

Mahoney spent one night in town and D'Alessandro stayed until today. One of the mayor's latest critics, State Sen. Francis X. Dippel, (D-Balto 3rd) insisted D'Alessandro "is mistaken" if he thought the mud-slinging jibe would shut off attacks on his city administration.

Dippel had just recommended Mahoney for governor and hinted he (Dippel) may be a candidate for mayor in 1955.

The young democrats elected Joseph D. Tydings, 25-year-old attorney, as state president. The son of former U. S. Senator Millard E. Tydings, is a potential candidate for the House of Delegates from Harford County.

Urge More To Run
Tydings and the Young Democrats' new national committeeman Lloyd L. Simpkins, of Princess Anne, urged more of their colleagues to seek office. Simpkins already is in the House, representing Somerset County.

With some dissent the convention urged prompt selection of a party chairman. The post has been vacant since Robert B. Ennis died last winter. James C. Morton, Jr., outgoing Y-D president, has an eye on the chairmanship.

Warren Browning of Montgomery County, objected to the proposal for quick action but was overruled. He contended it should be postponed until after the primary to avoid the risk of more strife.

Browning is Democratic committee chairman in his home county, where E. Brooke Lee has been party leader. Lee also has been boosted as state chairman.

Officers Are Named
In addition to Tydings and Simpkins, other officers named included:
